Resounding Victory

Prime Minister Wilson's Labour government has won a resounding mandate for greater Britain for the next five years. His solid parliamentary majority will make his government the strongest in the western world.

The decisive mandate should be good for government in Britain and will enable it to govern in greater authority abroad. The clear-cut vote of confidence will enable the government to deal boldly with the problems of Rhodesia and in Yugoslavia entry into the European Common Market from a position of strength. Prime Minister Harold Wilson has emerged as one of the strongest statesmen of these times.

His victory has made the British Tory party look like halfhearted candidates and the tiny Liberal party barely holds on to its own.

Whether the new Labour party government in Britain will prove good for the future of Britain remains to be seen. Mr. Wilson's call for a clear-cut mandate, and the resounding responses has probably made Prime Minister Lester Pearson most envious!

$1.50 per conviction!

During a recent trial at Lindsay it was revealed in the magistrate's court that Omerose police chief Ronald Crosswater receives $1.50 for each conviction on charges he has made, in addition to a salary of $7,000 a year.

Lindsay lawyers have expressed their dismay at the situation and a report which it took over a thousand yards of material that R. P. McMillan, chairman of the Ontario Police Commission will inquire into the matter.

Such an arrangement destroys the public's respect for the police and adverses the basis of police neutrality. A conflict exists between policeman's duty and interests when such an arrangement exists, and could lead to abuse.

Last week a Burlington youth appeared in Lindsay court charged with eight offences under the Highway Traffic Act and Criminal Code. Six of the charges were dismissed, one was remanded and the youth was convicted of having an unsafe vehicle. It was during this trial that the Omerose arrangement was revealed.

Stripes will be right for holiday wear. Above navy and bright green bands are alternated on cotton velour for a Fohrt blouse made by ship in Zurich.

Today In History

(CP)—Today is Friday, April 1st, the 91st day of 1966. There are 274 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight In History:
On the date in 1874, all fools' day is said to have originated when King Charles the Ninth of France changed the calendar. Originally the new year began April 1st and people observed it by giving presents and visiting friends. But with the change of the start of the new year to January 1st, folks used April 1st as a time for playing practical jokes.

On This Date:
In 1669, a uniform postal rate of three cents was established throughout Canada.

In 1878, pianist and composer Sergei Rachmaninov was born.

In 1878, the liner Atlantic was wrecked on a reef near Mars Rock, outside Halifax harbor with the loss of 646 lives.

In 1918, the Royal Air Force was organized.

In 1924, the Royal Canadian Air Force was formed.

In 1933, violent demonstrations in Berlin marked the launching of anti-semitic measures by the Nazi Party.

First World War:

Fifty years ago today—in 1918—Zepplin raids killed 16 people in England and Scotland; German units at Verdun completed the capture of Malancourt and Tancourt; British Prime Minister Asquith completed a two-day visit to Rome.

Second World War:

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1941—Amara, the capital of Italian Eritrea, surrendered to the British; six German ships scuttled themselves in Peruvian Ports when Peru attempted to intern them; the Italian destroyer Leone was sunk by aircraft off Africa.

Sir Winston Churchill's widow, Lady Clementine Churchill, is 81 years old. Actress Debbie Reynolds is 34.

Camping and Crippled Children

Camping is the way of life for hundreds of crippled children in Ontario—and the annual Easter Seal campaign has made these camping experiences possible.

The Ontario Society for Crippled Children and the service clubs in 281 communities in Ontario that conduct the Easter Seal campaign, have been making one of their special projects the provision of a summer vacation for severely crippled children who, under normal circumstances, would not be able to get away from their homes.

These are five specially designed and operated summer camps for these children that accommodate more than 1,200 boys and girls from all over Ontario for a two or three week vacation. At camp these children live in a relaxed atmosphere away from the restrictions of the treatment centre or hospital routine. The children don't compete in games and activities necessarily against each other, but rather against their own handicap. They find the motivation to do for themselves those things which they had not thought possible. For instance, many children learn to swim for the first time and, as a matter of fact, every summer some of these children pass their junior and intermediate Red Cross swimming tests.

Perhaps the most important part of their unforgettable days at camp—even more beneficial than the therapeutic value, fresh air and sunshine—is the boost given to their morale.

This summer, when most of us will be planning our trips to the cottage, camping expeditions, travelling or some other wonderful summer vacation, there will be many crippled children who will be having an equally good time, because parents have contributed to the Easter Seal campaign.

This is just one of the ways in which Easter Seal funds help crippled children.

Remember

This Day 50 Years Ago

APRIL 1, 1916

Kawartha Belknap Lodge No. 75 has been just completed packing another box of goods for the wounded soldiers at the front.

It has been shipped to Moore Barracks Hospital, Shoreham, England. When it is taken into consideration that it took over a thousand yards of material to make the articles which this box contains, it must be admitted that these ladies are doing a job of hours of hard work and are commended for their noble work.

Band Concert
The band concert by the band of the 109th Battalion in the armories last evening was a decided success both from the standpoint of the large crowd in attendance and the excellent quality of the concert provided.

The position of chairman was ably filled by Col. Peir, who in his remarks, stated that he was much pleased with the attendance and was glad to see that the people appreciated the work of the band.

Vitality In Architecture

"What one hates about the way cities are going is the destruction of diversity," it is clearly. It is important to see old and new together, this gives vitality. You could almost say that it is a vitality which requires tradition. The old buildings take on a new life when they are contrasted with new buildings; and this is what life is all about and therefore what architecture is about." — Eminent British architect George Langton.

WAY BACK WHEN

This Day 25 Years Ago

Boy Rescued
The fun of a group of boys playing in the water-filled gutters ended abruptly when one fell into a manhole they had opened to create a stronger current for their toy boats and floating sticks.

Town foreman George Pollock was called to the rescue and the water-soaked lad pulled out, none the worse for his fall.

Dies In Hospital

John M. Baldwin, 45-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baldwin, Lindsay, died in the military hospital, College Street, Toronto, last night, a short time before he had been knocked down by a motorcycle near Fort York Armouries. He suffered a fractured skull and other injuries.

Soldiers To Stop At Lindsay

A company of the Lake Superior Regiment, presently in Port Arthur and Fort William, will be in Lindsay tonight and will billet at the Armoury here for the night. The Post is informed. The Regiment, which is out manoeuvres, is sending one group on a route which includes Lindsay and the group will be made here.

It is expected that 100 men, with officers and NCOs will make the overnight stop.

IDEA FOR SUPPER

No ideas for that Sunday night supper? Try the Venetian Eggs. This recipe features a thickened sauce of tomato soup, Cheddar cheese, eggs, seasonings, served over hot toast or heated waffles. It's delicious when served with buttered egg and spinach.

VENETIAN EGGS

1 tablespoon butter; 4 table-spoons onion, finely chopped; 1 cup condensed tomato soup; 1 cup thinly sliced Cheddar cheese; 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/16 teaspoon pepper; 2 eggs beaten.

Sauté onion in butter until golden brown. Add remaining ingredients except eggs. Simmer until cheese melts, stirring constantly. Gradually stir in eggs, cook for two minutes longer, then remove from heat or heated waffles. Serves 6.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

By Roberta Lee

Scorch stains are almost impossible to remove from silks and woollens, although brushing scorch spots on woollens lightly with emery cloth may improve their appearance. Stains cannot be removed if the fibers of the cloth have been burned.

Cork Inside Bottle

If a cork has dropped inside a bottle, thread a button on a stout cord, and put into the bottle. Then, with a hat pin, draw the cork up to the neck of the bottle, after which pull the string attached to the button. This should bring the cork out with it.

Wobbling Candles

Don't risk wobbly candles — could be a fire hazard! To correct candles that are too loose in their holders, melt paraffin, pour this into the socket, then press the candle in on this paraffin while it's still hot.

HOW CAN I ???

Q. How can I remove hair curl ink stains from materials?

A. First put a good absorbent material under the fabric. Then rubricate the stain with a little petroleum jelly or white mineral oil. Flush the lubricant and as much of the stain as possible with carbon tetrachloride, and repeat until the ink spots "bleed" out. What is a good way to warm up leftover meals?

A. Place them in a pressure cooker, add three tables-poons of water, let the steam build up to the starting point, then remove from the fire, and let the pressure go down.

Duty

What I must do is all that concerns me, not what people think. —Emerson

WEEKEND IN LINDSAY

Comments from a visitor to the town: — "As a visitor to Lindsay, we would like to express our appreciation and delight for a wonderfully entertaining weekend.

Happily, our visit to Lindsay coincided with a time when Lindsay talent was on parade.

First we attended the Lindsay Festival Chorus and the "Rhythm on Ice" matinee at the Lindsay Arena.

Here we saw a sparkling array of acts that portrayed the talents of children of all ages, from tiny tots, to teens, to older. ### White heat marks can be removed from furniture by applying camphorated oil and leaving on all night.

Tomato Soup Cake

1 tin tomato soup, small; 1/2 cup butter; 1 cup sugar; 1 cup seeded raisins; 1 tsp. soda dissolved in tomato soup; 2 cups sifted flour; Salt; 1 tsp. cinnamon. Put raisins, butter, sugar, cinnamon and salt in dish and mix together. Add tomato soup, then add flour and mix in 8 inch pan. Bake

The show was opened by the Mayor with a short address, and from then on ensued very smoothly, by a well-known radio and television personality.

ed the show with the idea that we would see an amateur show, but the show was professional from start to finish.

We were thrilled with the display of talent all in one show.

We predict great things for Patricia Gill, Robert Tompkins, The Strollers, Jeanie Jones, Linda Oliver, Don Loon, Barbara Dunn, and who knows how many others.

We understand all performers gave their talents free gratis, and no one in the entire show is paid for their services, from the director-producer, to the lighting expert.

The accompanist, Don Lozon's professional performance at the organ was also a highlight of the evening.

We learned the proceeds from this show go to the Women's Guild of the Academy Theatre Foundation, who are presently furnishing the very beautiful upstairs reception room.

We can't speak too highly of this parade of fine talent, and can only add that Lindsay and District has Talent Unlimited.

Sunday morning it was our privilege to be a guest at St Andrew's Presbyterian Church for the 11 am service.

We thoroughly enjoyed this service, minister, choir, and music by Mr. Perry, whom we understand plays a great part in teaching music and singing in town.

Sunday evening we attended service in Queen Street United Church where Anniversary services were being observed.

Again, we were presented with fine music in song by Kawartha Chorale, in inspiring and thought-provoking message by Rev. Dr. W. F. Sandhurst, O.B.E., B.D., D.D., of Kingston, Ont.

BOARD SUPPORTS URBAN RENEWAL STUDY PROPOSAL

An urban renewal specialist, Leon Kenridge, Wednesday recommended the town council an urban renewal study soon as possible. Approval can be obtained.

Mr. Kenridge, of the consulting firm of Marshall, Macklin and Monaghan, said the planning board Wednesday night the firm had completed a feasibility study at the request of council and it was the opinion of the consultants that the town should go ahead with the urban renewal study.

The recommendation will go to town council and if they approve of the study, authorization will be sought from Central Mortgage and Housing Association to go ahead with the study.

Mr. Kenridge said he felt approval would be forthcoming from CMHA. About five weeks after the application was made, and the study would be completed before the end of the year.

The firm was asked to make the feasibility study at a special joint meeting of town council and planning board February 18. At that time Mr. Kenridge said the study would take about four months but authorization had been received. He said the firm would look at all properties which needed development, parks, sewers and road patterns and would make recommendations in respect to the urban renewal study.

Mr. Kenridge said the cost of such a survey would be about $11,000 of which the provincial government would pay 50 per cent, the federal government would pay 50 per cent, provided it received government approval.

Mr. Kenridge had also told the meeting if after the town decided to go ahead with the study, the same subsidies would be available for the development, which he suggested might cost $140,000.

The study and recommended approval be sought from town council.

HAT'S ON!

The proper hat style can make the short man look tall, the stout man look slimmer — the thin man look husky.

The proper hat selection can accent the positive and soften the negative in any man. It is all in the choice of crown, whether tapered or full — a narrow or wide, snap or rolled — and many other variations which we will gladly explain to you.

When slightly tilted, the right hat imparts a jaunty, confident air, and enhances the appearance of any man.

No. 23 Moonlight pictures and more about flash

A great many of the beautiful pictures of a moonlight landscape, or seascape, are really made in full daylight. Very effective "moonlight" pictures can be made by using a red filter, and underexposing about two stops, or exposing as you would without the filter. In other words, just forget the filter factor. Printing the shadows dark and toning the print blue, makes an acceptable "moonlight" picture.

Blue toning is somewhat simpler than either of the two methods for sepia. Here is a formula, using Ferric Ammonium Citrate for the iron blue. Take 10 oz. hot water, preferably distilled, and dissolve in it 75 grains Ferric Ammonium Citrate, 75 grains Potassium Picrylindigo, and 4 oz. 28 per cent Acetic acid. Make up to 16 oz. and the addition of water.

Contrary to the reducing effect of the sepia toner, this bath intensifies the print slightly, so it should be made a little lighter than eventually desired. The print should be fully developed, and as for other toning processes, should be thoroughly fixed and washed. It is put into the tray containing the above solution, until toning has proceeded as far as it will go. It will be a greenish blue, but the green overexposed disappears after being transferred to the wash water.

It is better to give only a short time in the running water, that has been slightly acidified with acetic acid. The alkaline content of the tap water due to chlorination, will greatly weaken the blue. The water need not be very acid; sufficient acetic being added to just cause a pink tinge in the blue litmus paper. There should be at least six changes of acidified water, and the print should be kept moving in order to keep a continual change of water across the face of the print.

The subject of guide numbers for flash pictures was covered fully in an earlier issue, but here it is again, by special request. Every film and flashbulb combination has a numerical value given to it, which is termed the "guide number." You will find this "guide number" usually on the outside of the carton containing the bulbs. Sometimes it is given for the film by name, as "Verichrome Pan"; other times the guide number is in a column headed A.S.A. number.

In the first case there is no need to remember A.S.A. numbers, but when A.S.A. numbers are given, you must know the rating of the film you are using for artificial light for the clear bulbs, and the daylight rating for blue bulbs. The shutter speed being used also has a bearing on the guide number, so you find the A.S.A. rating, or the name of the film in one column, and the shutter speed to be used in another.

In some cases the film speed is in a vertical column at the left, and the shutter speeds are in the top. While in other cases the opposite shutter speeds at the left, vertically, and film speeds horizontally across the top. In either case you follow the film speed column until it meets the shutter speed column, and there you have the guide number, right where the two columns intersect.

If you are using a simple box camera, or a folding camera with only one shutter speed, usually one fiftieth of a second, and may be only one aperture, there is a special column to be referred to in this case all you need is the A.S.A. rating, or the name of the film you are using, and opposite that there is a number telling you how far your flash gun should be from the subject. It is usually in a column coloured differently from the rest and is the distance in feet, NOT the guide number.

In the case of the guide number for adjustable cameras, you simply measure, or

BETTER PHOTOGRAPHY

on the art of Photography
especially written for "The Post"
by
CLAUDE BELLWOOD

estimate the distance you are from the subject, and divide that into the guide number. This gives you the correct f-stop to use. If the guide number for a shutter speed of one hundredth of a second is 160 and you are ten feet away, the right stop to use is 160 divided by 10 which is 16, so you set the lens aperture to f-16. One thing should be remembered in the selection of guide numbers, and that is that they are computed for use in an average sized room, of medium toned walls and furnishings. If the room is done in very light colours, or white, use half a stop smaller say between f-16 and f-22. If the guide number gives you f-16, if on the other hand, the room is quite large, in fact it may be necessary to use one full stop larger, or f-11 when f-16 is indicated.

The same thing applies to flash out in the open; use one to two full stops larger than the guide number indicates depending of course whether you are close to light colour of building, or out among the trees.

Forty-four years as rural mail carrier on one route: Earnest Germyn's record

The numbers 22, 44 and 66 are just numbers to most people, but to a certain rural mail carrier in the Lindsay area they are of considerable importance today.

Forty-four years ago on April 1, 1922, Earnest Germyn made his first official trip as rural mail carrier on rural route number 1, Dundas, 70 days he started his forty-fourth year on the same route after serving the people for forty-four continuous years.

Mr. Germyn told "The Post" he made the first trip with a team of horses and buggy. He said the trip covered about 22 miles and there were some 70 boxes to serve on the route. Mr. Germyn said at the start there were frequently three or four mail boxes on a corner, but with expansion of the route within the past twenty years, every customer was soon served at his box at the road gate.

Horses were still driven in the winter time for many years, Mr. Germyn said, and for the first 15 years he drove the horses year around.

"Everybody said I would last no more than four years when I started" the veteran carrier said. "Many men before me wore out their horses in that time, but I never had any trouble that way."

Mr. Germyn referred to one part of his route on the 14th concession of Emily "over the floating bridge." He said on many occasions the water came up to the axle of the cart he frequently rode and he would allow the horses to find the submerged roadway. He said it was not unusual for the water to be so deep that he had to exercise extreme care not to drown the motor when he drove the car over this part of his route, but he said he finally succeeded in having that section transferred to another carrier who served the people beyond the bridge.

"For the first fifteen years we had to get our holidays. It was a six day a week trip, Christmas and New Year's included," Mr. Germyn related, but in recent years he has been granted all regular holidays, some seven a year.

Mr. Germyn said when he took over the route, each mail man was provided with a galvanized box to carry the mail in, but after two years he had

Through the years the writer has continued to be amazed at the countless hours many citizens have devoted to the community in the line of service over and beyond the call of duty.

The time, energy and talent of many citizens continues to be of unmeasurable worth. The writer has had the opportunity of scanning and reading through a very fine brief which sets forth in interesting and educational manner, the reasons why the town of Lindsay should be chosen as the location for one of the proposed Community Colleges.

It is noted that the special committee responsible for the presentation book is headed by former Mayor J. C. Holton, and members of the board give Mr. Holton great credit for his efforts.

The brief is a forcibly stated endorsement of Lindsay as a site for the college, and the contents from the pens of many influential and important people and organizations include testimonials from all the townships, villages and towns in Victoria, Haliburton and Ontario north, including a testimonial from the head of Trent university in Peterborough.

The wealth of information that this brief contains should have a real influence on the men empowered with the decision to choose the location of community colleges in this area.

frank about sports

Perry Round Irawanaka took a one game lead in the Junior "C" quarter finals when they defeated Oakville 5-3 in Trafalton. The next however saw lead the series three games to two and the next game goes to Perry Round Sunday afternoon.

Toronto Marlboros and Kitchener Rangers will need at least eight games to eliminate them in the Junior "A" semi-finals. The Rangers took another win from the Maple Leafs last night but will need to tie the best of seven series at three wins and a tie each.

Little Britain Bulldogs eliminated Elmhurst from further competition in Midget "D" play games Wednesday. Although Elmhurst won their home game 8-7, Little Britain's five goal lead from the first game gave them the home series 10-14. Little Britain Bulldogs will await the naming of their opponents in the All Ontario finals.

A Midget Tournament takes at the Kiwanis Arena tomorrow with eight teams competing and championship and consolation finals in the evening.

Midtown Tigers plus reinforcements won over Oakwood 28 goals in the first game of the Orval McLean Trophy tournament at Little Britain last night by a 6-3 count. In the second game of the series, Little Britain defeated Woodville 4-2. Two more games to-night with two Oakville teams in the first game and Little Britain seniors playing Millbrook at nine p.m.

A former Lindsay minor hockey star player, Terry Stewart, has not forgotten what he learned. Playing in the so-called Inland league in Estevan Saskatchewan, Terry still shows the class he learned in Lindsay, playing on defense for Estevan's Kitchener. He scored in a contest that saw the Kitchener edge the Jayco's 4-1.

Annual checker plays of Lindsay and district will be heading for the "Y" in Port Huron Saturday night for the checker tourney put on by the Y.M.C.A. Checker Club.

Sports Sweep!

(CP)—Boston Bruins and New York Rangers will go into the final weekend of regular National Hockey League action tied for fifth place. The Bruins, hoping to escape from the cellar for the first time in 36 years, defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 last night while Detroit Red Wings were whipping the Rangers 5-0.

Montreal Canadiens need one point in their final two games to take first place in the NHL. Canadiens, who lead Chicago by four points, will face the Hawks in Montreal tomorrow night.

Athletic directors from 82 Canadian universities and colleges have voted unanimously against the awarding of Athletic scholarships. They met in Toronto at a conference on physical education, recreation and athletics.

Canadian heavyweight champion George Chuvalo of Toronto has been offered a 12-month, $50,000-dollar guarantee to fight in Newark, New Jersey. Chuvalo's manager, Irv Unger, says the offer is to fight Tony Aliotti.

Ontario is still in first place in National Senior Curling Championship, being played in Winnipeg. The Ontario skip, skipped by Jim Johnson of Cookeville, has a record of seven wins and one loss. Alberta and British Columbia are tied for second with 6-and-2 records.

Nova Scotia, Manitoba and Prince Edward Island are tied with five wins and three losses each.

The baseball season opens in Toronto for the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League on May 8th. Reason for the late opening is because of cold weather that kept attendance down for the last few years.

Opposition for the Toronto ball club for their home opening will be the Richmond Braves, who last year operated as the Atlanta Crackers.

Centennial "Festival of Canada" programme to preview in Lindsay

The Centennial Commission has announced a programme which may reopen many of the theatre doors across Canada next year, and it is understood the trial run of the programme will be held at the Academy Theatre in Lindsay in October.

Called Festival of Canada, the programme, announced Tuesday is aimed at cities and towns that have been off the beaten track since Vaudeville died.

Festival of Canada will bring top international and national entertainment into 60 cities at prices not more than four dollars a show.

The show will inject funds into regional troupes for performances in their home areas and Lindsay and area talent will take part in this programme at the Academy Theatre.

The Centennial Commission gave an outline of the three-month programme at a news conference. Officials of the Academy Theatre Foundation in Lindsay gave comment on the report that the Academy Theatre in Lindsay would be the trial theatre for the performance in September.

The projected Centennial programme will affect the holding of the Lindsay annual Kiwanis show and the club will have to find new dates for their programme. W.B. Bates, president of Kiwanis said he didn't think the change of date would pose too much of a problem for the club and if Producer Zarfas was unavailable for a new date, "perhaps a new producer might have to be found," he said he was waiting for more facts before he brought the matter before the club for discussion.

Some other Kiwanis members expressed concern today about the change of dates. One said the club had collected from $12,000 to $18,000 each year for about fifteen years and felt it might be difficult to sell as many tickets for the Kiwanis show if the big centennial programme ran during the same period.

Festival groups are now going towards the production of 40 works by Canadian composers several new operas and ballets and about 20 plays, musicals and other works.

BROCK HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO HOLD MODEL PARLIAMENT

Students from the Brock District High School will hold a model parliament Wednesday Party.

The week-long campaign was highlighted by daily speeches by the participants, a debate between the leaders and an intensive poster campaign throughout the school.

Last Thursday's debate was the first of the speakers facing repeated heckling, booing and varying degrees of disruption.

In the election held last week the NDP captured 24 seats while the leftist Liberal Party won 18 seats and the Conservatives 12 seats.

On Wednesday the minority NDP government will introduce its speech from the throne and a hectic session expected since the opposition parties can present a motion of non-confidence. Following the three debates, the members government which was subsequently defeated in the session will conduct a question period and a motion of confidence.

The Lindsay Community Chest annual meeting held last night did not set an objective for the campaign, which is slated for October, but they approved budgets for 1964.

Community Colleges

During March an Order-in-Council was approved setting up eighteen areas for the planning and development of Colleges of Applied Art and Technology, Lindsay, in common with hundreds of other towns across Ontario in hoping to be chosen as a site for one of the new colleges and to this end a committee drawn from a wide area around was formed.

A handsome bound illustrated book has been prepared under the chairmanship of former Mayor Joseph Holtom which contains an introduction, a map of East Central Ontario, statistics on the area including population and secondary school enrolments, details of courses required in the area for the study, agriculture and management training and a summary of the reasons why Lindsay is the best choice for this area.

The submission was to have been made to the Council of Regents, however the Hon. William G. Davis, Minister of Education has announced the appointment of Boards of Governors in the selected areas and submissions will have to be made to these boards. As yet no announcement of appointees has been made.

The problem of finding suitable sites for the colleges is a complicated one. In this area designated No. 3 in the province, the contest is intense to serve all the municipalities, including any cities or separated towns of the counties of Lennox and Addington, Hastings, Peterborough, Northumberland, Peterborough, Haliburton and Victoria.

A region as large as this with the present network of highways cannot be adequately served by one community college wherever it be located. The area commonly referred to as East Central Ontario which includes the counties of Ontario, Victoria, Durham, Haliburton and Peterborough would appear to be a more suitable geographic grouping.

Haliburton county for instance, because of its geographical isolation and absence of any large centres can have its higher education requirements satisfied only by the establishment of a community college in the Lindsay area. As J. Douglas Hodgson, principal of Haliburton Secondary School points out, "Our county does not provide business or industrial employment for more than 10 or 20% of the students graduating from secondary school and therefore, it is imperative that educational opportunities be offered them in order that they can migrate to the larger centres and become usefully employed. Since it is a recognized fact that communities without institutions of higher learning have fewer students receiving post-secondary education than those having facilities, it is necessary that a Community College be located in the Lindsay area which is between 50 and 60 miles of our approximately 5,000 people."

The town of Lindsay provides a suitable atmosphere for an institution of higher education. It is admirably located, in the heart of East Central Ontario, in the heart of the agricultural and business activities in the area already served and can be made available at no cost. The Lindsay area is located in the heart of the tourist areas and in a fertile farming area—yet has a rapidly-developing industrial community and would provide an excellent environment for students and staff.

We urge the Board of Governors for this region, wherever it is appointed to consider very carefully the advantages of Lindsay, and to consider also, if it is feasible the reconstruction of the geographic breakdown of college locations as set out in the announcement of the Minister of Education.

Man and His Cities

Over the last hundred years, mankind doubled in numbers, but during the same period the world's city population increased five times.

These figures illustrate the swift advancement of urbanization that is so characteristic a feature of the world today. In this process, health may tend to be forgotten. World health day 1946 is to draw attention to the human needs—particularly the mental health needs of our complex urban settings today—and also to contribution that health workers in co-operation with other professional people can make towards creating a more harmonious human environment in cities of today and tomorrow.

Any over the world, the mushrooming city growth has given rise to slums and shanty towns in which as much as one-third of today's population are crowded together in conditions contrary to the requirements of healthy living. But even when a minimum of basic physical requirements are met, the modern city threatens the health of its citizens in a number of ways.

Many a person coming to the city from the country has been to put up with less space, less daylight, less fresh air, less greenery, more noise, but less liberty to make noise. Both work and play are different. Old-established patterns of communal living are disrupted. The newcomers may fail to keep up with city ways, and adjustment problems of various kinds may arise. Psychomotor and neuritic disorders are undoubtedly largely associated with the congestion and noise, the hectic rhythm of city life, its social and life and its many arduous appeals to the individual to do this or that. Furthermore a counterpart to the glamour of modern city life is its employment possibilities, its educational wealth and its cultural advantages, we have dehumanizing crime, prostitution, alcoholism, and the excessive use of drugs.

The health worker clearly has his part to play in dealing with these problems. At the present time, however, many questions still remain unanswered in this field. But such can be done, by the professional health worker and by civic groups, but also by the citizens at large to make our cities better places to live in.

Leves

I am further of the opinion that it would be better to have no law at all than have them in an opinion number as we have. —McMontague.

This Day 50 Years Ago
Dog Owners in Trouble
Chief Short informed the Post this morning that he would summon a number of dog owners to appear in police court this week for allowing their dogs to run at large. He feels that dog owners have received sufficient warning and that the time for action has arrived against those who disregard the law.

This Day 25 Years Ago

Science Works Wonders
Science certainly works wonders. Various beauty aids are used as ingredients of making fine explosives and other war materials. It is found to reduce the manufacture of concrete so as to divert the ingredients to a more essential use, it will probably put a vasty different complexion on things.

Leaving For Front
Pia. John Hartwick, who has been on leave and who is at present in Kingston, wrote his parents stating that in all probability he will sail for England without returning to Lindsay. He expects to receive orders any day.

Shots Three Wolves
A man reading near Robyconey cleaned up $75 in a sporty way the other day, and had some fun besides. He strolled into the woods and bagged three wolves without difficulty. That meant three pelts at $25 each.

On this date in 1908, Commodore Robert Peary, Matt Henson and four Eskimos planned an American Expedition to the North Pole. The party spent nearly 30 hours at the spot which scores of explorers had sought for nearly 100 years to reach. Peary won wide acclaim for his discovery and in 1911 the United States Congress gave him the rank of Rear Admiral.

"This parish church is one of the largest in England. Mostly perpendicular, there are some Norman structures. The Trinity Chapel dates from the early fifteenth century and contains many fine brasses. The pulpit is one of the few neo-Renaissance examples remaining. Cranecraster is an ancient Roman town and is pronounced—Cranester.— BTA photo.

Cox-Bullock Wedding

Minden, (PNS) — A reception at the Airways Hotel in Miami, Florida, followed the wedding on Friday, March 18, in the Presbyterian Church on La Jeune Road of Miss Elizabeth Anne Bullock and Ivan Cox.

Miss Bullock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bullock of Ottawa, and was given in marriage by her father. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyne Cox of Minden.

Attending the bride was her friend Miss Linda Sparrow of Ottawa. Delmar Griffith of Miami was the groomsmen. Rev. Ray Davies officiated in the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a white suit of sarrano linen with blouse of white nylon lace. Fine nylon tulle formed her shoulder-length veil caught in a peau de sole rose and she carried white orchids with trailers on a white prayer book.

The bride's dress was pale green nylon crepe with scoop neckline. She wore a brocade rose with a tiny veil as a hairpiece and carried a bouquet of bronze orchids.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bullock chose a dress in blue tulle with a train. The bride wore matching accessories and her carriage was of pale mauve orchids.

The groom's mother wore a two piece dress of beige lace with beige accessories and a carriage of bronze orchids. Guests came from Ottawa, Minden, Toronto, and Fort Lauderdale, including the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Cox.

When leaving on their wedding trip through the State of Florida the bride wore a pink suit with white gloves and black patent accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox are in residence in Los Angeles, California.

Ross Pickle

Andrew Ross Pickle of Shadow Lake, R.R. 1, Cobocook, entered into rest at the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, on Tuesday, March 20, 1966. He was in his 78th year.

Andrew Ross Pickle was born in Ontonabee Township, Peterboro County, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William George Pickle, and was the beloved husband of Edna Irene Courter. He had resided at Shadow Lake for almost two years, having formerly resided at 86 Glenelg Street West in Lindsay. He had been in ill health for only one week.

Remaining to mourn his passing in addition to his beloved wife is a daughter Linda at home and a son Jack at Sarnia, Ontario. He was predeceased by one daughter Betty (Mrs. Ross Miller). He is also survived by two sisters, Edith (Mrs. McCauley) and Jennie (Mrs. McCauley) and three brothers, Kenneth of Peterboro, Harry of Toronto, and Mervyn of Piquet, Ontario. Four grandchildren also survive.

Ross Pickle joined the Grand Trunk Railway at Lindsay in 1909 as a shop man. After leaving the railway for a year, he returned in 1913 as a fireman, and was promoted to engineer in 1918.

Mr. Pickle worked out of Lindsay, Belleville, Toronto and Hamilton, the most of these years being spent in Lindsay, before he retired in 1955, while in passenger service on the Toronto, Lindsay, Belleville run. His son Jack is employed by the C.N.R. as an engineer working out of Sarnia.

In July 1964, Mr. and Mrs. Pickle moved to Shadow Lake at Norland where he enjoyed working in his garden and among his flowers.

Mr. Pickle attended Zion School in Ontonabee Township and was a member of the Anglican Church at Zion.

The funeral service was held from the Mackay Funeral Home on Friday, April 1st, at 2:00 p.m. Rev. R. Wood of the Baptist Church at Norland conducted the service with interment at Riverside Cemetery.

The pallbearers were fellow employees J. Whitely, M. J. Fox, R. L. Lavery, Les Neil, C. Heals, and C. Montemiglio.

WARP and WOOF by SCOTTY

A Spring Grawl
 If there comes a little thaw,
 Still the air is chill and raw.
 Here and there a patch of snow,
 Dirtier than the ground below,
 Drabbles down a marshy fowl.
 Ash-deep you stick in mud,
 In the meadows while you sing,
 "This is Spring!"

—C.C. Cranoh
 Spring is on the wing and the sound of barking dogs who have been tied for the summer season, is heard all over the town.

How about tying up the cats too? There's a certain fat cat, who shall be nameless, who has taken to walking around the top of the car every night. Since our car is a light colour, and her paws are only slightly smaller than a rabbit track, the resultant design might be considered
 "cat art" by the "in" crowd.
 One thing we are sure of though — one cat is going to be "out" when, and if we catch her in the act!

A letter from a man in Seattle, Wash., was received by Maple Leaf Gardens. In it, the man explained that he is making a study of the more important botanical gardens in the world and asked for information on how many plants were being cultivated and what kind.

Let's see, there's the Shack boat, the flowering Selby, the perennial Stanley, and the age-less Alexander.

Associated with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, the Lindsay Rotary Club are now conducting their Easter Seal Campaign.

"Easter Seal contributions make it possible to maintain a nursing staff completely covering the province, a campaign programme giving a summer vacation to children in all parts of Ontario who might normally never leave their homes, the provision of braces, wheelchairs, crutches and artificial appliances, the operation of treatment centres — and rehabilitation care that is of vital importance."

"The wonderful thing about the Easter Child Campaign is that every gift will benefit a crippled child."
 —F.L. Weldon, Chairman,
 Easter Seal Committee.

As the purse is emptied, the heart is filled.

What we frankly give, forever is our own.

The Legend Of The Dogwood
 There is a legend, that at the time of the Crucifixion the dogwood had been the size of the oak and other forest trees.
 So firm and strong was the tree that it was chosen as the tree for the cross. To be used for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree, and it died upon it, and now
 , and in its gentle pity for

On The Main Street

with FORD MOYNES

When the population of Lindsay was between seven and eight thousand people there were eight or nine barber shops in Lindsay. Today with a population of over 12,000 there are still only eight or nine barber shops.

One can remember when shaving was the big end of the barber business and hair cutting was of secondary importance. In those days a Saturday at 1:00 p.m. barbers would hang out a sign which read "No hair cuts Saturday or Saturday night" and the customers for shaves greatly outnumbered those for hair cuts.

One can remember when the price of a haircut was 15 cents, and a shave 10 cents. Some business men would visit the barber shop for a shave three and four times a week, and a few business men were known to go to the barbershop for a shave twice on Saturday. In those days barber shops opened at seven o'clock in the morning and remained open until midnight on Saturdays. The trend in barbershops today has been completely reversed, and shaves in a barber shop are becoming quite rare.

Mr. Gillette, Mr. Shick, Mr.

Lindsay has had many fine barbers in the days of yore such as Sandy Fick, Marshall Stevens, Walter Richards, Bert Naylor, Pat Jakins, Herb Hardy, Russell Lamb, Herb Williams and others. They maintained good shops and were friendly people, full of chatter of course and quick with the straight edged razor, and always courteous that was a necessity.

Barbers of old were accommodating persons. They could tell a customer the arrival and departure times of trains and boats, where to get the best value for money on groceries or cutters in town, where the next box social would be held, who held the world's boxing title, what was new in politics and who would be the next mayor. They'd also be as close mouthed as any business man.

Barbering has always been a trade and barbers have always had their regular customers, but today there is no more shaving, just hair cuts.

Barbers' prices advance with the times the same as in any other business. Barbers must live, they must pay higher rents, greatly increased taxes, make their charitable contributions the same as other business men to charitable institutions, to community work, and to the churches. Barbers today, as of old, depend mainly on one line of merchandise, that of cutting hair. It is a well known fact that when gasoline prices, food prices and other lines of merchandise advance in price very little is said, but when the barber ups his prices people tend to holler. A barber has to make a living the same as anyone else.

Barbering has always been a necessary institution, perhaps as industry in Lindsay, as well as in every other town and city. It might be well to recognize the facts, be reasonable, and refrain from griping. "Live and let live" is a good motto.

The wide circulation of the Lindsay Daily Post is shown again by a reader in California sending a card of congratulation to Phil Ranson on the opening of his store at Sutton. The sender of the card said he read about the opening in the "Main Street" column.

Every major organization in Lindsay will be expected to launch some important project in 1967, the Centennial year.

White's Economy Store on William Street South, it is understood, is one of the first firms to set an example for the Lindsay merchants. The White Store will undergo alterations and will be enlarged by converting the apartment at the south end of the block into a store with a modern business front.

Of signal importance as a centennial project is the decision arrived at to improve the storage building immediately west of the Economy block on Russell Street, one door east of the Kiwanis Arena.

This old and antique building will be preserved and treated to a paint job, the installation of modern doors, and the place dressed up for the Centennial.

The building is one of Lindsay's oldest and was once the blacksmith shop of a gentleman named O'Connor, father of the late Judge J. V. O'Connor. Later it was a creamery owned by Morgan Lewis, well known at Bobcaygeon and in Lindsay, he having served a year or two as a member of Town Council.

Several decades ago the best known name in Lindsay was that of Sadler. A pioneer of the three Sadler brothers of the late William Sadler passed away recently by Needler and away in Toronto. The late Sadler. William Sadler and Fred Sadler in his youth was engaged as a trimmer with his brother as three sisters the Sinclair Carriage Works residing in Oshawa, namely, in Lindsay. The late Reuben Mildred, wife of the late J. Sadler was also a trimmer in the Carriage Works and, the same carriage shop. After being the wife of Ray Oshawa brother Leslie passed away a few months ago, the Left to mourn the loss of Warder in Lindsay.

WORLD'S BEST PRIMER AND SEPARATE RUST-PROOFING FROM AMERICAN MOTORS!

All American Motors cars get a "bath." They're dipped up to their rooflines in rustproofing compound six separate times until every nook, cranny and crevice is totally covered. Then they're dipped in primer and given a separate spray coat of primer. Then we top that by baking on three coats of salt-resistant, corrosion-proof—Lustre-Gard super enamel. Result: a finish that looks beautiful—stays beautiful for years. Deep-Dip Rustproofing is only one of the advanced engineering features you get from American Motors today—features others won't offer you for years to come.

Engineering that's far ahead. Extra value that leads the field. Built-in quality from headlights to tail-lights. That's what American Motors gives you right now. Here's proof:

Single Unit Construction. Body and frame on all American Motors cars are welded together into one, single, solid unit for tremendous strength and safety. Result: a stronger, safer, longer-lasting car—a car from the inside out.

Ceramic-Armoured Exhaust System. Not just sheet metal alone, but a ceramic-armoured coating exactly like the nose cone of a space rocket. Resists heat, corrosion, wear—sears off rust before it starts.

Double Safety Brakes. Not just one braking system, but two. If one set ever fails, the other stops you safely. (Double Safety Brakes have been exclusive feature on all 1967 cars on all our models since 1962. Some other manufacturers have now announced that they will adopt this feature—but not until their 1968 cars.)

Most powerful standard engine in its class. Swift, smooth, seven-main-bearing sixes. Powerful, v-8's. Take your choice.

Widest range of seating options in the industry. Luxurious reclining seats (backrests, if you want), armrests and adjustable headrests. And fine-furniture coil springs in all our seats in all our models. (Only one other North American car offers this—in the luxury class.)

Fibreglass roofliners and double door seals. A far cry from flimsy fabric roofliners and single door seals. Noise stays out. Drafts, weeds, chills can't get in.

Attention to detail. American Motors offers the durability of plastic knurl, all-metal rest-bed, shaves, even shavers that roll out on ball bearings. Small details, yes—but they add up to overall quality.

Beautiful luxury fittings. A big, big selection! All the power equipment and features you want. And floor consoles. Thick-out pile carpeting. Wire wheel discs. Walnut interior paneling. Roundstitch Check fabric. New vinyl patterns. Exciting styling in top-of-the-line Ambassador DPL, Rambler Rogue and Rambler Rebel.

New car quality. We believe that quality is what you build in—not what you add on. We build quality into all our cars from the beginning. We take the time. We take the trouble. We always have. We always will.

Used car quality. The exclusive quality and features that we build into our full line of cars mean that an American Motors used car is a better value and a better buy.

HOME-MAKING HINTS

Your beautiful golden meringue has cooled and now has tiny beads over its surface. The cause could be the result of too little beating after the sugar is completely dissolved in the whites before baking and you will gain the perfect, light, fine meringue.

Use creamed ham in this delightful salad, suggest food specialists. Fresh trimmed but tender bred into a ground mufin pan. Then toast in a hot oven until crisp and golden brown.

Canada's Food Guide is a useful item for planning well-balanced menus. For instance, eggs and cheese are recommended for eating at least three times a week.

Seasonings can add the needed touch to any meal but be aware of too much, advise home economists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph. Herbs and spices are a complement and enhance foods—not to overpower them.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPPAGE

By Roberta Leo

One neat way to store your extra paper bags is to install on the inside of any convenient kitchen cabinet door or cupboard door an ordinary screen-door spring, horizontally, with two 1/2-inch screws spaced as to be under a light tension. This spring will hold your bags securely against the door.

Kitchen Drains

Keep the drains in your kitchen sinks, as well as in your laundry tubs, clean and free of grease accumulations and disagreeable odors by rinsing some strong, hot salt water through them at least once a week.

Homemade Pot-Holders

Make your own kitchen pot-holders by cutting squares from the unruled sections of discarded Turkish towels, sewing two squares together to make one pot-holder.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. Is there any way I can keep the blades of my kitchen paring knives in a sharper condition for a longer time?

A. One way to do this is by keeping the knives in a pot-holder away from hard contact with other metal. And if you can fill the holder with sand, it will tend to sharpen the cutting edges and keep the blades sharp from one another. Such a holder can be made by filling the top of a baking powder can for insertion of the blades. You can decorate this container with attractive decals, too, if you wish.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF Women

with Helene Scott

The Lindsay Women's Liberal Association held their regular meeting on Monday, March 28, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Coulter on Durham St. The meeting was well attended and some new people were welcomed.

The guest speakers were Mrs. W. B. Jackson, of Peterborough, who is president of the Central Southwestern Liberals Association, and Mrs. Lockie, president of the Peterborough W.L.A.

Mrs. Jackson spoke on organization, and women's part in the campaign. Her informative address was followed with interest. Mrs. Jackson spoke on the Workshop being held at the Empress Hotel in Peterborough on April 16. Very keen interest was shown in this project, and it is expected that many from the Lindsay area will be attending. Anyone interested, is welcome to attend the Workshop.

A question and answer period followed. The next meeting which will be held on Monday, April 25, will be the Annual Meeting and election of officers.

After the close of the meeting coffee and refreshments were served.

At a budget meeting, we should have copies of the information for study in advance of the meeting' Mayor John Eakins told Victoria District High School Board finance chairman Bruce Maidens last night. Mr. Maidens in presenting the budget, stated he had only received the revised figures Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. and they had not been approved by the finance committee or by the Board as a whole as yet.

"I would not want to support a budget that had not been approved by the High School Area Board" said Mayor Eakins. Continuing he said "As long as I am in council I cannot see cutting our town budget to the bone for a school budget. I do not think the public of Lindsay should be the sacrificial lamb". The Mayor said council hesitated to raise the tax rate for town purposes, "but we do not like to have to sacrifice the town for education. If its terrible to have such a tax rate" the Mayor stated.

The budget presented by the High School Board finance chairman was almost double the 1965 levy. The tentative

Some of the items that made up the 1½ million dollar total budget included $869,063.20 for instruction (57 per cent of the budget) Instruction supplies $105,626.97; administration $109,958.53; plant opera-on $112,161.30; plant maintenance $41,449.17; transportation $165,000.00 (eleven percent of the budget); capital expenditure and outlay $83,286.62.

Finance chairman Maidens pointed out the amount of $46,000 was included in the capital outlay, when final contract figures for the erection of the Fenelon Falls addition amounted to $46,000 more than the amount estimated.

and the accepted estimate. He said the Board did not have time to go back to County Council or municipal councils, and the O.M.B. approved covering the extra in capital outlay.

At the start of his presentation Mr. Maidens gave a short resume of "this big operation Lindsay and Fenelon Falls" stating that the depreciated value of buildings and furniture of the two municipalities

Rev. O. G. Locke, chairman of the advisory and negotiating committee of the high school board, told council members that there are just over 90 teachers on staff at the two schools at the present time. ## LEGIONAIRES HONOUR VETERANS OF VIMY

"The attack at Vimy was timed for an early Sunday by an army consisting of one hundred thousand Canadian soldiers supported by seventy thousand of the Imperial Army." "Duke" Hills of Port Hope recalled at the annual Vimy banquet of the Royal Canadian Legion, London, on Wednesday evening, attended by over 500 veterans.

"Easter brings to mind the spring, the flowers and the Glorious Resurrection of Our Lord. But this was a different kind of Easter. Instead of an empty but victorious tomb, there was Vimy Ridge."

"Eleven thousand yards through a raging blizzard and terrific enemy fire, the Canadians with their British cousins advanced until they reached the summit and became the victors. We have been told that Canada was born on July 1, 1867 at the time of Confederation. Others say that the birth of Canada dates from 1926 when the statutes of Westminster became law and Canada became an equal partner in the British Commonwealth of Nations."

"When I tell you that ten thousand Canadians tell on that day, advancing eleven thousand yards, I think you will agree with me that Canada was born on April 9, 1917 and the place of birth was Vimy Ridge," declared Comrade Hills.

"This was the day that Canada became a nation. This was the day Canada earned the right to sit in the councils of nations," he continued. "Not politicians, not statesmen but soldiers gave Canada the right to call herself a nation."

Comrade Hills said the men of Vimy were the ones honoured at the banquet, and they are indeed worthy of the honor. Speaking of the World War and successive conflicts, Comrade Hills asked "Is there a man among you who would trade our Canadian way of life for any other? In no way, then you must be prepared to defend what you have."

Example of Service
The Legion in London shows an example of service. Mayor John Ekins told the Legion that the Royal Canadian Legion at the Royal Canadian Legion. He recalled the year 1908 when he graduated from public school and Jasper Foreman, a Vimy Ridge veteran present at the banquet, spoke on the battle of Vimy Ridge. "The story of that awful battle has always been in my mind," said the mayor.

Mr. Ekins said the work done by the members of the Legion. "You enrich the town with your common law and your common sense."

Speaking on the council meeting he was to attend the next day, Mr. Ekins said: "When we boost the mill rate tonight we will suffer a lot of criticism. It is not unusual for the critics of the Legion to draw the drain in the interests of funds for education. Much capital work has to be done, it is not so now we will pay more for it later. I support advances in education but not frills in any form."

The mayor congratulated the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion on the express his pleasure at attending the meeting and Zone Commander Scott commended the branch on the work that went into the banquet each year.

Guard of Honour
Major Roy Macdonald, M.C., officer commanding the 45th Battalion, said about four years ago he commanded a guard of honour at a ceremony at Vimy Ridge. "I was greatly inspired by the magnificent memory," he said, and speaking of the men under training in his unit added, "they are prepared to do their part in the future if it becomes necessary, the traditions of the past pass on to the sons, and we will maintain the traditions of the past."

Executive member Percy Swenson expressed thanks to the speaker and Richard Green thanked the Women's Auxiliary. The meeting was chaired by past president Tom Madill and president James MacFarlane. Among the guests was former World War One soldier, John MacFarlane.

officer and former Premier of Ontario Leslie M. Post. President of the Vimy monument was the Lyngwood Trust.

High School

Lindsay representative of the high school board, J. Norman Gill. Dr. Gill questioned the one mill payment made by Lindsay noting that the estimated per 1947 tax on crowded 1,000 pupils will be attending the Fenelon Falls school, and Fenelon Falls will not be paying one mill. Dr. Gill noted Lindsay paid according to their share of assessment and with increasing industrial assessment the share charged to Lindsay was out of proportion, noting the Lindsay's representation was by population.

Dr. Gill told council members that the cost for a new student for one year was $302.94 while the cost for an out-of-town student to their school was only $276.15 per year. "I don't see why in Lindsay should carry such a burden," he said.

He suggested a committee of council should be formed to investigate separating the school from the County High School system. Dr. Gill suggested the town should go to the Ministry of Education to seek relief from the high costs involved in Lindsay's share of high school taxes.

Mr. Ekins agreed with Dr. Gill. "More people should get up and speak out. There should be more people attending council meetings and express their opinion," he said. "The speaker who speaks louder than the voice of the people" said the mayor.

Councillor Russell Benton questioned the delay in presenting the high school budget. "I don't think the council in these departments cannot present their budget on time," said Mr. Benton suggesting in future the clerk write the High School Board setting a deadline. "That would be a waste of time," he said.

Councillor Dr. Hallows suggested a school of no more than 600 pupils would be ideal in which Mr. Madens agreed. "This is correct," and added, "but we could not get qualified teachers for the small schools and the large school system was organized, that was a mistake," said the finance chairman.

Lindsay finance chairman Dr. James Fawcett asked the high school board representatives if they could assure council their budget would be passed by their finance committee and board to which no positive answer seemed available. Dr. Fawcett stressed the town council set the first Monday in April as budget date and suggested the High School board call a special meeting when told their next regular meeting would be on April 20.

The board finance chairman agreed to call a special meeting of the whole high school board for Monday, April 11, to approve their budget. The regular meeting of town council set for April 11th was postponed to April 12th, if necessary.

ance over the year amounted to 19 per cent of the total budget. The total public school budget, after grants totals $403,475.00 the chairman noted.

"I would like to see the provincial government provide more money and change the source from where it comes," said Mr. Irig.

Councillor John Truxa also questioned the education tax, pointing out that a taxpayer earning $3,000 per year and a taxpayer earning $15,000 per year paid the same school tax if their assessment was the same. The first income people are being hurt," he said. Mr. Truxa pointed out that it is the increased number of teachers that is making the cost of education stating that the teacher's average salary across Canada is below $8,000.

The net increase in the public school budget will amount to some $37,000 for 1946 as compared to 1945, but is still approximately $1,800 below the 1944 figure, Mr. Irig pointed out.

SPRING A PUDDING SURPRISE

When Spring fever or Spring cleaning—or both—catch up with us, easier, simpler menus are in order! Perfect for a Spring dessert! Sure to inspire calls of "encore!" from the family in this easy-to-cabin pudding with cranberry-apricot sauce. Individual baked puddings made with leftover cake and chopped figs are topped with a flavorful sauce of jelly, cranberry sauce and apricot nectar.

This colourful cranberry-apricot sauce also makes a fresh-baked cupcakes or layer cake. Use it for a base for fruit, or as a sauce for apples or fresh fruit.

CABINET PUDDING WITH CRANBERRY SAUCE

(Makes 8 servings)
4 cups of 1/4-inch cubed stale pound cake, 3/4 cup chopped figs, 2 cups milk, 4 eggs, well beaten; 1/4 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 can (8 ounces) Ocean Spray jelly, cranberry sauce, 1 can (12 ounces) apricot nectar, 1 cup (15 pint) heavy cream, whipped, 1/4 cup sliced almonds.

Butter 8 6-ounce custard cups heavily. Put cake cubes into custard cups, sprinkling cake cubes with figs as cups are filled. Beat milk, egg, sugar and vanilla. Slowly pour liquid into filled cups, allowing mixture to soak into cake. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes or until firm. Cool. Heat cranberry sauce and apricot nectar until mixture begins to bubble. Run a sharp knife around the edge of the pudding to loosen and unmold into serving dishes. Spoon warm sauce over pudding. Top with whipped cream and sliced almonds.

HOW CAN I ???

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove kinks and bends from a stiff electric wire?

A. Place the wire on a board or other hard surface, then go over it with a cold iron, using just enough pressure to make the wire roll.

Q. How can I remove paper labels from bottles more easily?

A. You can make this job much easier if the face of the label is wet thoroughly, and then heated near a flame.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF WOMEN

with Helene Scott

"Cambridge Capers", being presented at the Cambridge Street United Church Hall, April 20 and 21, by the Mr. and Mrs. Club of the church, will feature a great variety of entertainment.

With Peter Milner as musical director, the present will be on music and song. There will be Irish tunes, old favorites in show tunes, spirituals, and a hymn-singing session with a bit of a show.

Doug Vandenberg, of Cedar Villa Lodge, Burnt River, who will emcee the show, is bringing his Hammond organ, and he will also play his accordion. Mrs. K. Garbig will be the pianist for the show.

A play, "Fog", a drama by Evelyn Neumann, will be presented with a cast of three women - Cynthia Lash, Jean Robinson and Brenda Miller. "Cambridge Capers" is an event that is eagerly looked forward to each spring, so be sure and don't miss this year's edition which promises to be one of the best yet. (All proceeds from "Cambridge Capers" are used for a worthy cause).

A heart of gold is more valuable than a head of ivory.

My Kitchen Prayer

God bless my little kitchen, I love its every nook; God bless me as I do my work, wash pots and pans, and cook. And may the meals that I prepare be seasoned from above. With Thy great blessings and Thy grace, but most of all Thy love. As we partake of earthly food, the table before us spread, We'll not forget to thank Thee Lord, Who gives our daily bread. God bless my little kitchen, Lord, may they who enter in; Lord, they find naught but joy and peace and happiness therein.—(Mrs. R. W. Noble)

The Thoughtful Minister

The church was filled to overflowing on this Easter morning. The minister, at the conclusion of his sermon, added these remarks, "It has been most gratifying to see so many new faces in the congregation this morning and I welcome you all heartily. If I should not see each one of you again until next Easter I now take this opportunity to wish you a very Merry Christmas and a joyous New Year."

The word Easter comes from the Anglo-Saxon name of the goddess of spring, Oestre—hence our greatest Christian holiday is named from a pagan goddess.

Without love and laughter there is no joy.

Handy Hints

To remove suede shoes, clean them with vinegar. When dry brush the shoes and they will look good as new.

When washing chambray or other leather goods, use a tablespoon of castor oil or olive oil into the soapy water.

To remove shoe polish from clothing rub with white vinegar.

Tea, coffee, and cocoa stains can be removed by gently rubbing them with glycerine. If stain persists scrub in glycerine for some time.

Many thanks is interested party who loaned hint books, recipes etc.

COMMONS REJECTS ABOLITION OF DEATH PENALTY FOR MURDER

Ottawa (CP) — The commons has rejected abolition of the death penalty for convicted murderers.

After a five-day debate featuring by some of the most common speeches in years, the resolution by four private MPs to substitute life imprisonment for the vote went down to sorrow.

The result was hardly a surprise. New Democrat Reid, who voted to do away with the death penalty, said afterwards "I practiced it just before division, crushed."

Teas ran down to his position on capital murder charges.

Mr. Scott, a Toronto lawyer, said that those who advocate abolishing capital punishment would be disappointed by a loss now.

"This is only round one — he said — round two starts to-morrow."

Solicitor General Penneil, one of 16 cabinet ministers, said that he was not surprised. New Democrat Reid, who voted to do away with the death penalty, said afterwards "I practiced it just before division, crushed."

Checks as he left the commons. Mr. Penneil is the Minister who recommends for or against commutation of death sentence when individual cases come before cabinet.

An immediate result of the vote was to place a question mark on the 15 Canadian now occupying death cells across the country following their conviction on capital murder charges.

Ontario: Fisherman's Paradise

Fishing is once again upon us.

For most, this pleasure must wait until summer. But for those bent on an earlier start, no place could be more rewarding than Ontario.

This big chunk of Canada, embracing some 422,000 sq. miles, has a quarter of a million lakes as near as is known, and roughly as many rivers and streams.

Shaded, one could stick a pin into the map of the province with every assurance that no matter where it landed there would be worthwhile fishing within reasonable distance.

But with so many regions to fish in, the visitor on his first Ontario safari might be understandably puzzled as to where he'd make his goal. Then there are the season dates to consider.

The Ontario Department of Tourism and Information is an excellent first source in general data and brochures on specific areas, but meanwhile here's some useful "inside" good to start you on your way.

Brook trout heads the list of early springtime fishing and a good guide to follow is the 1965 report of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests which listed 18 of its 22 forest districts as good to excellent for this species.

Among these, within reasonable driving distance of the U.S.-Canada border, are Tweed and O'Leakes, Lindsay, Lakes Simcoe, Erie and Huron areas, Perry Sound and North Bay, Farther North, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie, Goma, Cochrane and Kenora are excellent local places.

For later species consider these tips from the outdoor editors of Toronto's three daily newspapers who have fished Ontario from one end to the other. Listed below are their favourite haunts for the most sought-after kinds and their open seasons for 1968.

Rainbow trout you'd need a fishing regulations guide, for some areas are open from Feb. 26 to Sept. 30; all others, April 26 to Sept. 30; 15 - shoreline of Georgian Bay from Collingwood to Warton; Manitoulin Island, Owen Sound, Nottawasaga River in Wausau Beach area, Meaford, and Muskeg Lake north of Tweed.

Lake trout open to Sept. 30. In some areas, to Oct. 16 in others: Lake Temagami, Lake Simcoe, Lake Opinong in Algonquin Provincial Park.

Walleye (no closed season in most areas) - French River, Trent River, Kenora, mouth of Moon River south of Perry Sound.

Smallmouth bass (June 4 to Dec. 15 in Lake St. Clair and Detroit River; June 16 to Nov. 20 in other waters) - St. Lawrence River at Gananoque and the Trent River near Campbellford.

Bass, small and largemouth (in most waters, June 25 to Nov. 30) - Lang and Muskaw lakes in Haliburton area, 30,000 Islands, Long Point Bay in Lake Erie, Linerick Lake, Stensberg area north of Madoc, Land O'Leakes in the Tweed area.

Pike (open in most areas: WE ARE SPECIALISTS IN GENERAL CONTRACTING AND COTTAGES

May 7 and May 14 in others) - Pointe au Baril (on Georgian Bay, 30,000 Islands, Bay of Quinte near Belleville. ## New regional development plan for Ontario

Increased grants to regional development organizations and a comprehensive survey of the province's human and physical resources will be announced recently by Premier John Robarts as part of a new nine-point regional development programme.

Heading a 25-page statement called "Design for Development," Mr. Robarts told the legislature that the province's existing regional development associations will be reformed and receive a grant of $10,000 each plus an additional grant of $10,000 on a matching basis.

This comprehensive inventory of the province's resources, he said, will be undertaken by the Ontario government and the universities, in consultation with the new regional development councils. Already, funds have been allocated to the universities to assist in the estimates of the Department of University Affairs to make possible an expansion of regionally-oriented research in the universities.

A third major plank in the new regional development programme, said Mr. Robarts, is the expansion of the Ontario Development Agency into a crown corporation to assist industrial development through the provision of loans for fixed capital.

"Regional development in Ontario will provide the basis whereby different regions or areas can develop their potential for specialization," Mr. Robarts said.

"Through the use of government programmes, or public expenditures on development capital, the government of Ontario can guide regional growth."

He said the "smoothing out" of conspicuous regional economic inequalities will be sought through the regional distribution of government budgetary expenditures, also through the provision of technical, financial, and administrative services, and through the use of programmes carefully selected to encourage labour mobility, tourism, agriculture, resource development, manufacturing, and other forms of economic activity.

To implement the programme at the government level, a committee of the cabinet will be established for the purpose of planning priorities, co-ordinating government activity, and directing the preparation of regional development plans.

This cabinet committee will be assisted by a senior departmental advisory committee of civil servants familiar with the regional activities of their department.

Mr. Robarts said that under the new programme, it will be the aim of most operating departments and agencies of the Ontario government to work toward the gradual establishment of common administrative and regional.

And senior civil servants from each provincial department with offices in the field will establish regional advisory boards to provide guidance and advice to the government and serve as a means to further departmental coordination in the field.

Praises Work of Associations
 Praising the work of Ontario's present nine regional development associations, Mr. Robarts said the newly named regional councils will be encouraged to initiate their own programmes as well as to make proposals for provincial action.

He urged that continued efforts be made to encourage the present trend toward voluntary merger of regional citizens' groups "when such mergers work to the common advantage of the region and its inhabitants."

As a means of encouraging the increased participation of local municipal councils and in recognition of the growing importance of the functions and advice of regional citizens' groups, the government will recognize the regional development associations by legislation and re-name them regional development councils.

Mr. Robarts stressed that the new regional development plan will not disturb the existing power and authority of municipal and county councils. But he also indicated the programme will not interfere with any future considerations of adjustment in local area government.

"Our design for development," said Mr. Robarts, "will ensure that the regions of the province are developed according to an orderly plan which would include environmental and economic considerations. Such an approach looks not only to general land use, but also to the social and economic potential of a region and its people, and concentrates on developing these centres in the interests of the region as a whole."

The Province of Ontario is divided into 10 economic regions: Central Ontario, Eastern Ontario, Georgian Bay, Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, Mid-western Ontario, Niagara, Northeastern, Northwest, and St. Clair. Nine of these regions have regional development associations, which are made up of provincial and municipal representatives, and public spirited local groups and individuals. The Central Ontario region is now forming the tenth regional development association. At the present time, each association is given a grant of $10,000 on a matching basis.

New era for business communications

Business communications in Canada will enter a new era in mid 1967 when the Trans-Canada Telephone System will introduce a computer controlled "message switching data service" for the automatic exchange of written messages and data.

Announcing the new service on behalf of Trans-Canada, C. B. Woodley, vice-president and general manager, Tels. Area, Bell Telephone Company of Canada recently called computer message switching "an imaginative step to ward the future". Trans-Canada is made up of eight major telephone telephone systems operating to provide nationwide communications.

Heart of the new system is the Trans-Canada computer. Each computer will be backed up by a second one for maximum reliability. The computer will be on telephone company premises.

Major businesses now have teletypewriter and data networks consisting of a number of circuits or "lines" to interconnect their facilities, warehouses, branch offices, supply and service call locations. Transfer of messages from one line to another by present methods requires that attendants at a central point manually shift punched tape from a receiving machine on one line to sending machine on another. Even with the rather bulky semi-automatic, electro-mechanical switching equipment used by some firms, control of the flow of messages is usually a manual task. Some companies use a room full of equipment to switch their messages. The computer will eliminate the need for all but one small machine on the user's premises at any location.

"Computer message switching offers several advantages over older and slower systems," the telephone spokesman said. "Messages are automatically stored for recall, verification or retransmission, and users can hold messages for future delivery."

"Above all, this new system is 'flexible'. By using this computer, an entire message can serve many masters, directing the flow of information for them all at the same time. There is no chance of a message for one being received by another. Even competitors can use this system with complete security."

Various business machines—teletypewriters, card readers, TV's—will be able to communicate with each other. The computer automatically converts to a different machine code or speed, if necessary. It can integrate a firm's private line dial facilities with the regular telephone network. The new system can be expanded readily as a company grows, or altered to meet changing needs.

Message switching, the Trans-Canada Telephone System's latest advance in nationwide communications,

HISTORIC SHIP FOR EXPO '67

An historically exact, full-sized replica of Jacques Cartier's ship "Grande Hermine" will be named in the La Honda lagoon at EXPO '67. The Honorable Arthur Laing, Minister responsible for the Canadian Historic Parks system, announced today that the ship, 75 ft. long with a displacement of about 120 tons, will be built by the Inverness Ltd., of the Levis, Quebec, at an estimated cost of $270,000.

The "Grande Hermine" will be a major historical contribution to EXPO '67. Mr. Laing said. "It will be comparable in significance to the reconstruction of part of the Fortress of Louisbourg on Cape Breton Island and will be a proud addition to the various sites and structures administered by the Canadian Historic Parks system."

After EXPO '67, the "Grande Hermine" will be floated to Cap-Saint-Jacques National Historic Park at Quebec City, where it will be on permanent display as the focal attraction of the park. The ship was established by the Federal Government in 1968 to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the arrival of the first French settlers at the Lairet and St. Charles rivers, where Cartier wintered in 1535-36 during his second voyage of exploration to Canada.

The master brake cylinder of every American Motors car is divided into two independent sections. One goes to the front wheels, the other to the rear. Both sections are operated simultaneously by the brake pedal. If one set should ever fail, you still stop safely. It's like two braking systems in one. Double Safety Brakes have been an exclusive feature, at no extra cost, on all our models since 1962. Some other manufacturers have now announced that they will adopt this feature—but not until their 1967 models. It's only one of the advanced engineering features you get from American Motors today.

Advanced engineering. Years-ahead features at no extra cost. Built-in quality from radiator to roofline. That's what American Motors gives you. Look at these exclusive features:

Single Unit Construction. Body and frame on all American Motors cars are welded together into one, single solid unit for tremendous strength and safety. Result: a stronger, safer, longer-lasting car—no bow from rust.

Ceramic-Armoured Exhaust System. Not just sheet metal alone, but a ceramic-armoured coating actually like the nose cone of a space rocket. Rusts less, corrosion, wear—means after, insurance. World's best rustproofing. All our cars get a "bath." They're deep-dipped in their rustproofing in rustproofing compound as separate lines. Then they're dipped again in primer and given a separate top coat of paint. Then come three gleaming coats of DuPont-grade super enamel. You get a beautiful finish and long-lasting protection from the ravages of rust.

Most powerful standard engine in their class. Swift, smooth, seven-main-bearing power. Powerful, quiet V-6's, take your choice. Wider range of seating options in the industry. Loungers and reclining seats. (Optional, at your wish.) Ample and adjustable headrests. And fine-finish coil springs in all our cars in all our models. (Only one other North American car offers this—and it's in the luxury class.)

Fiberglass roofliners and double door seals. A far cry from flimsy fabric roofliners and single door seals. Noise stays out. Drafts, winds, chilly drafts get in.

Attention to detail. American Motors offers the durability of plastic trim panels, all-metal rear deck shelves, even ashtrays that roll out on ball bearings. Small details, yes—but they add up to overall quality.

Beautiful luxury fittings. A big, big selection! All the power equipment and features you want. And floor consoles. Thick-cut carpeting. Wire wheel discs. Walnut exterior paneling. Houndstooth Check fabric. New vinyl patterns. Leaning slat in top-of-the-line Ambassador DPL. Ramblor Rugger and Ramblor Rebel.

New car quality. We believe that quality is what you build in—not what you add on. We build quality into all our cars from the beginning. We take the time. We take the trouble. We always have. We always will.

Used car quality. The exclusive quality and features that we build into our full-line cars can mean that an American Motors used car is a better value and a better buy.

Robin Hood and merry friend fined at Minden police court

Education department plans major changes in math courses

The Ontario Mathematics Teachers' Association was told yesterday major changes are planned for elementary and secondary school mathematics curricula.

Ontario Education Department Assistant Superintendent G. A. Kaye told mathematics teachers the changes would include:

In the grade 10 course, the first major break from the traditional teaching of geometry;

In grades 11 and 12, further revisions to begin early this fall;

In grades 10, 11, and 12; a common core for all four-year students, together with optional topics depending in which branch a student is registered;

Kindergraten to grade 6; an updating of the entire programme with much stronger emphasis on the beginnings of geometry.

velon programming and a multi-textbook approach.

Mr. Kay said these and other proposed developments will require further revision of Grade 11 and 12 courses which will be started early this fall by a committee to be appointed in the next month or two.

He said the committee will confer with teachers across the province to sample opinion and keep teachers informed of developments he added. There is no desire on his part to have any secrecy associated with the development of courses," he said.

Oshawa Generals are being congratulated today on winning the 1988 Ontario Junior "A" championship. The Generals edged a determined Kitchener squad 3-2. Oshawa will now meet North Bay for the all Ontario title.

Toronto Maple Leafs blew a 2-0 first period lead over Montreal Canadiens last night to drop three games behind in the Stanley Cup semi-finals. Montreal scored three goals in just over three minutes of the second period, added one early in the third and scored on an empty net for their 6-2 win.

Chicago Blackhawks took a 2-1 lead in games over Detroit Redwings at Detroit with a 2-1 win. The win cost the Hawks the services of two valuable players, Elmer Vaseco and Chico Maki.

Lindsay Legion Midgets defeated Galt 3-1 in the Midget tourney in Trenton yesterday and will return Thursday for their second game in consolation series play. The Legion lads dropped their first game to Richmond Hill 5-3 to enter the consolation round.

Robeygeon Ti-Cats will be hosts to Wellington tonight in the fourth game of the Ontario semi-finals in Junior "D" competition. Robeygeon own three wins in the set and could wind up the series with a win tonight.

Cohoesank Lions Midget "C" teams will meet New Hamburg on Hobokenygeon in the second game of a best of three series Thursday night. New Hamburg and the flu bug won the first game 4-1.

A gala carnival is on the calendar for Little Britain Arena Friday night, costumes and fun favors, music and refreshments. Ontario Midget "D" final game at the Mariposa Gardens Saturday night.

The originator of "Minor Hockey Week" now sweeping U.S. and Europe, was a guest speaker in town last night.

The Coboconk Midget "C" Lions will have their backs against the wall when they meet New Hamburg at Hobcageon Thursday night. New Hamburg won the first game of the best of three series 4-1, and the Coboconk boys must win to stay in contention for the Midget "C" championship.

The Coboconk Midgets had a string of ten consecutive wins going for them until the loss on the weekend, and possibly this loss is what they needed to keep them working.

Coach John Bryant reports most of his players have recovered from the flu and feels they will be going all out for their many fans at Bobcaygeon Thursday night.

WARP and WOOF by SCOTTY

Observed in April is National Wild Life Week proclaimed as a living memorial to the late Jack Miner, Canadian Naturalist, who gave his life and energies for the cause of Conservation. Jack Miner had a wonderful philosophy of life and his original sayings are well worth quoting — here are a few:

Don't put your tongue in high until you get your brain started.

A good swift kick in the right time and place often gives a barefooted boy a good lift in the end. Lord pity the preacher that preaches to please the people, and Lord pity the people he pleases.

Don't work all your life to make a living but work to live all your life.

A man who isn't big enough to change his mind has nothing to change.

The long range weather map says: 10 - 16 Unsettled with rain and snow in most sections on 10th and further storminess between 12 and 14th. Mild between 10th and 12, otherwise cool normal 17 - 23: Below normal temperatures are forecast.

One of Canada's top Centennial sports attractions will be the Carling World Golf Championships which will be played

The $200,000 purse, largest of any annual tournament, is so divided that all professionals who start will receive a minimum of $400. The top professional receives $35,000.

At Walpole Island, near Walpole Island, Indians plan to erect a life-sized statue of Tecumseh, the Indian hero of the War of 1812, as their Centennial project.

Tecumseh, a Shawnee chief, was felled in the battle of the Thames near what is now known as Moraviantown. In 1900 the remains were moved to their present location in a cairn on the west side of Walpole Island.

In Riverside, (near Windsor) volunteer canvassers are busy engaged in raising $36,000 for a public subscription to finance Riverside's Centennial project—a swimming complex which will have three separate pools and a bathhouse. The campaign goal means canvassers will have to raise more than $150 for each man, woman and child in Riverside.

Noticed in classified advertising section of a paper an advertisement for a home for senior citizens. The ad described the place as a haven of comfort and content for discriminating elderly people. The rates are $250. for the first month and thereafter $210. including meal. Special nursing care rate $340. This have is obviously not intended for old age pensioners with the state with no matter how

Notice the Independent Businessman says of the Budget — "It's a Do-nothing-till-you-hear-from-me budget. Don't earn more this year, don't increase production, don't even die this year."

The infamous 11 per cent sales tax on production equipment and machinery is going to be dropped to six per cent. But it needn't have been mentioned! This won't happen till April 1, 1967. It could well have been featured in the budget for next year."

Today's biggest problem is working out solutions for the solutions the last generation worked out.

If the world's population of three and one quarter billion people were compressed to a thousand people, only sixty would be Americans. These sixty would receive half of the total income of the world and own fifteen times as much goods as the other 940 combined. Except for 200 others among the thousand, all the rest would be ignorant, poor hungry and sick. Half of them would not be able to read or write. Three hundred and would be white, and the remaining 697 would be non-white. (V. C. Studley, The Management Letter).

Joy
Be prodigal of praise

Be generous with joy
Give love and kindness
Give faith and hope and cha ity,

The more you give.
The more you have.
The more you spend,
The richer you will be.
If you have naught to give,
Then you are poor indeed.
Be prodigal of praise,
Be generous with love.

— By M. E. Rock.

You'll never see his name in print — He was an old gad-gadener — a quiet, thoughtful man who found time, as he worked, to consider the way of the world and his fellow-men and to set down his reflections in verse in a book.

He's dead and gone now, but his simple wisdom lives in the lines he has written:

Yes, all the world's a stage, 'tis true,
But some men in the gallery
And throw things at the actors who Are trying their best to do their bit!

Joke Pot
 "That little thing of yours was charming," said the grumpy hostess. "I loved its wild abandon. Was it your own composition?"
 "No madam," scowled the violinist of the evening. "I was just putting a new string on my violin."
 * * *
 Caller: — "Madam, I'm the piano tuner."
 Pianist: — "I didn't send for you."

Caller: — "I know it, lady; the neighbours did."

There's one consolation about both life and taxes: when you finish one you're through with the other.

Lindsay's participation in Sports of all types and brands dates back into the Eighteenth Century and it is safe to say that more people took an active part in Sports in the early days than in this modern age. Cricket was one of the oldest when Lindsay had a fine crease on the present Central School grounds, when the players appeared in spotted flannels and wide peak caps. Tennis was played on a double court located at the South-east corner of Mill and Russell Streets. Baseball was played on almost every vacant lot (and there were many of them) but the earliest diamond was probably behind a high board fence which almost surrounded the block bounded by Victoria Avenue, Melbourne Street, Cambridge St. and Glenelg St.

Club. The Town of Lindsay has been a splendid sporting town despite the fact the coming of the motor car, the development of summer cottages and other aspects of progress have cut into active participation in many of the games. Despite this fact the Town has continued to maintain a fine average in connection with good wholesome amateur sports.

$350 DAMAGE

A car which seemed to miss another vehicle at Dorset last Saturday night, crashed through some guardrails and sustained $350 damage. Haliburton OPP said no injuries resulted. Police said a car driven by 28-year-old Robert Mac of Dorset pulled out from a sign at Highway 35 about 7 p.m. when suddenly a second vehicle driven by 30-year-old Peter Gilbert of Toronto came around a sharp curve. Police said Mr. Mac jammed on his brakes and Mr. Gilbert swore of his vehicle to the left to avoid collision. The second vehicle crashed through some guard-rails on the shoulder of the road, sustaining $350 damage. Haliburton OPP Constable David Eley investigated.

The Travellers...

Fourth in a series of light-hearted reports on "The Travellers" ... two ladies, one 73 and another 74, who are on a cruise on the Swedish freighter. The two are frequent visitors to Lindsay ...

A hundred water Buffalo were not on board the night we left bound for Hong Kong, where they will be slaughtered. We all felt so sorry for them; they didn't let a sound out of them all the way, and they must be utterly miserable. They have run out of hay for them too. Yesterday one of the men got paid for the Buffalo, and gave them some drinks, and the ones that got drunk enquired the path to take them to the next port. They spray them with fresh water every day to make them feel better.

I noticed one very bad looking animal that reminded me so much of my cat. The city is built around and up the high mountain, to Victoria Peak. It was just a mass of lights. As soon as we could, we got off the ship and went shopping as we just had one more day to spend in Hong Kong.

We went to the shore in a walk-in-whale (water taxi), not our point of view, but the whole thing, thinking we saw everything that everyone says is a must. We went to see the butterfly between China and India; near the guards, bars, etc.

We had lunch at a floating restaurant, (The Sea Barge). We went from the shore to it in a minute. We had a lovely lunch there, all sea food, and each with his own special sauce—drank juice which was delicious, before we were served a waiter came around with a tray of dish with warm, damp, pot-smoked wash cloths for us to wash our hands before eating, and he did the same at the end of the meal.

We arrived at Kowloon early in the morning. We went ashore at 10.30, got into postbags, and rode to the International Hotel and got an Express bus for Tsimshui, central city of Tsimshui. Went to the Grand Hotel for lunch. It is a beautiful Chinese hotel with beautiful gardens. The hotel is very Oriental. We had a lovely lunch. We then went to the "Pleasure Of China Club," another lovely place. The drive to Taipei was very interesting. We went by river paddles, into the homes, through the mountains at Keelung, and you really feel as if you were in a war zone.

Hit at the harbour on the hills are guns mounted on top of buildings; right in the city, anti-aircraft guns pointed across the harbour. There are ever so many caves in the sides of the mountains with iron gates across, and signs reading, "Shelters For People". Then a ship came into the harbour, on our outer, after ten o'clock at night because they put down nets to catch submarines that might try to enter.

We arrived in Pusan, Korea, on Feb. 10. Pusan, Korea, is not at all interesting and I looked on board as I feel a bit coming out. One of our passengers, Arthur O'Neil, an airforce officer, leaving the ship at Kaoh, our next port. He is a very nice person, and got a decoration in Korea.

We arrived in Kobe the night of Feb. 11. The Star Spangled Banner came over the radio as we were coming in, which thrilled everyone. We got a taxi and drove to Kobe. It is the most beautiful city I have ever seen. It was a great sight to see the old capital of Japan.

We had lunch in a beautiful hotel. The outside wall of the dining room was all sliding plate glass doors which looked out on a beautiful garden. In the corner was a water fall and a small lake with several ducks. The "Shogun" (next to him to the Emperor). There were few flowers, beautifully coloured. We walked on a path that made some like birds. It was a great sight to see the old capital of Japan.

A sign said that way so if someone came to murder the car, McCreary investigated.

A week later, they broke into Waterhouse's Service Station on Lindsay Street and stole 12 keys, $41 cash, two cartons of pop and some screwdrivers.

Lindsay Police Corporal William Money told the court that the accused and his companion committed the offences on March 8, and that they carried three wrecking bars and two screwdrivers. The court was told they carried the tools, which included a television set, radios and two screwdrivers and took them to Savanna's boarding house a half-mile away.

Savanna, in a statement to police, said this was the second time he had tried to get money out of that telephone. Corporal Money told the court the take from Court's Music Store on March 21 was nearly $250 in merchandise.

Members of the staff of Zeller's store at 17 at Lindsay gave a dinner and presented a plaque to Mr. Baker's staff during your three years in our midst" said Mrs. Wylie.

Mr. Baker is a member of the Lindsay Kiwanis Club, was chairman of the Radio Auction a year ago, and has also been active in the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, being 1968 chairman of the Santa Claus Parade.

Lindsay police said the accident was the worst broken on Russell Street about 10.30 p.m. when it was in collision with the Thompson car eastbound on Russell Street.

Lindsay Police Constable Douglas Thompson investigated.

Mayor John Hinkins former Ontario Premier Leslie M. Frost, Visiting veteran William Chisholm, "Duke" Billie Dill of Ontario and Lindsay, president James Thacker, were among the local table guests at the Vets annual banquet held on Wednesday evening. "Post" staff photo.

Winner of the broad more than at the Royal Winter Fair, "Civitate," a registered Indian mare brought the highest price at the 14th annual fair, sold at $20,000 on Wednesday. The mare was consigned by Keith Holbrook, of Brooklyn, shown above, and was purchased by the American Quarter Horse Association, Houston, Texas, from all of Ontario, Nova Scotia, and the states of Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan in the U.S. — "Post" staff photo.

People don't want to pay for education complains high school finance chairman

Victoria County High School Board Finance Chairman Jack Staples last night complained that the people wanted education but didn't want to pay for it.

All educational bills have been deleted said Mr. Staples. He said all the board committees have gone over the budget and have reduced them as much as possible without creating a deficit. "And there was no longer any use of having skilled teachers when there was nothing to do with them."

"The people stress education but they don't want to pay for it. The only solution to the problem is to fire the teachers and close the schools," said the finance chairman.

The special meeting of the board was called Monday to approve the high school budget. Failure by the board to present a budget to the town council was held up setting the mill-rate and subsequently a delay in getting out the tax notices is expected.

The budget presented to the high school board two weeks ago of $1,589,452 was adopted by the board and then rejected and sent back for further study and paring.

Monday night the finance committee came up with a budget of $1,548,117.36 and the board approved it.

In order to have money the board decided to drop the proposal for additional classroom space at the LCVI in the form of portable classrooms, a saving of $20,000.

The final high school budget which received only tentative approval from the town council, included: instruction, including teacher's salaries, $869,063.20; supplies, $93,484.82; administration, $109,958.53; plant operation, $112,237; plant maintenance, $40,942.47; auxiliary services, $4,336.50; fees to other school boards, $28,654.72; transportation, $165,000.00; capital outlays of which the major expenditures are for the addition to the Fenelon Falls High School, $83,528.62; bank interest, $15,000; miscellaneous expenses, $2,638.90 and total deficit from 1965, $23,278.50.

Lindsay residents will pay $23,079.95, about 43 per cent of the high school budget if town council approve the board submission.

BETHANY UCW HOLD MONTHLY MEETING

Bethany (PWS) — The United Church Women met in the Sunday School hall on Monday night with Mrs. Carl Porteous presiding. Mrs. Thomas Jackson and Mrs. George Waddell lead the Easter worship service of scripture lesson, meditation, prayers and hymns.

Mrs. Ross Davidson continued the mission study on Trinidad, talking mainly on their educational system and comparing it to Canadian courses. Rev. John Morton of Bridgewater, N.S. was the first missionary to go there in 1868, his wife accompanying him as a teacher. He was sponsored by the Presbyterian Synod of the Maritimes. When the United Church came into being in 1923 the work in Trinidad became its responsibility.

"Forty-three per cent of today's population in Trinidad is under 15 years of age. Education is carried on by the Government and the churches. The schools are very over-crowded and many are refused admission."

Mrs. Vincent Jackson explained their school systems graded as Primary School (same as Canadian Public School), Secondary Schools and Teacher's College. They also have Grammar schools which give a straight Academic education and Technical Schools. In some areas they have Teacher Training courses for graduates of the Primary school, where these pupils may become "Pupil Teachers" working under experienced personnel and writing a qualifying examination every year. The Christian religion is taught in all schools with a half-hour period devoted to Bible study every day.

Mrs. Davidson read questions from one Bible examination paper which were answered orally by the members.

In conclusion, Mrs. Davidson said "Assisting with mission work and education is a challenge to all Canadians. We must share our knowledge with others. Perhaps a good way of promoting friendship could be opening our homes and entertaining students from other countries who are completing their education in Canadian Universities or Bible Colleges."

Rev. William Piercy led the Bible study on "God and His Purpose for all People." "Even though man's sins and faults result in all kinds of evil, there is a place for man in the created order of God. God does not cast out the sinner, but instead continues to work out his creative purpose. He uses the farmer, the inventor, the scientist, etc. to carry out His plan. The purpose of God is to win the affection, trust and service of his people in all parts of the world. He is our Father who wins us by the wisdom of Love."

Mrs. Harold White and Mrs. William Lawrence assisted Mr. Piercy in the discussion period. Mrs. Earl Argue, programme convener, thanked the speakers.

Mrs. Carl Porteous explained how U.C.W. allocation funds are used at all levels.

Mrs. Ross Davidson gave the financial report.

Mrs. Gordon Chase read the correspondence. The date for the annual Garden Party was set for June 17th.

$5.00 will be sent to the John Milton Society for the blind.

Mrs. George Waddell announced another bale of used or new clothing will be shipped in May and members were asked to send in their donations before that date.

The group were happy to receive the gift of an electric kettle for the church kitchen, sent from Mrs. Lynn Dawkins, Buckeye, Arizona. Mrs. Dawkins is the former Doris Driver and was a member of the Church before moving to Arizona.

DIAGNOSIS WILL SHOW BRAIN HEMORRHAGE

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: It is true that a person can survive after hemorrhage on the surface of the brain? I've just heard of a friend having been operated for it, and he's now entirely well. Mr. W.

Comment: Not all cases of brain hemorrhage are more marked. In addition to severe headache the patient suffers nausea, vomiting, convulsions and loss of consciousness. His neck may be stiff. There may be delirium, drowsiness and irritability.

With such symptoms present, the doctor will usually do a spinal tap (putting a needle between the vertebrae of the spine and withdrawing spinal fluid). If it is bloody (pink or pink instead of clear, subarachnoid hemorrhage is the likely diagnosis. Further tests (arteriogram) to outline the arteries in the brain, etc.) will pinpoint the trouble.

Such hemorrhage is not always due to injury. Disease of the arteries, high blood pressure, aneurysms, tumors, and many other tests and the neurologist can often weaknesses may cause bleeding. Main thing is to make early diagnosis so surgery can help if possible.

ASTRONAUTS TAKE NOTICE

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I was interested in your recent column in which you praised astronauts, not only for their bravery, but for their ability to withstand minor irritations in the capsule for 30 or many days.

But you are selling mothers short. I believe many a mother of several children, if adequately trained in the mechanics of a space programme, could withstand the inconvenience, annoyances and personal irritations that would accompany a launching and orbiting.

After passing out lemonade and invariably having thirty minutes later the kitchen floor looking forward to an event, you desperately try to get to and have your child come home after cleaning up from the sick child in ways that positively disgust single adults; after going through days on end of not accomplishing what you desperately try to get to and are thwarted right and left.

It seems to me that mothers of necessity develop the same inward calm and manner of taking things for granted that make the astronauts emotionally capable of their flights. I'm not suggesting that mothers go into space training, but I simply feel that we walk on a parallel with the astronauts when it comes to nervous wear and tear and the maintaining equilibrium.

Have four children, and they are good children, but even at that, the buffering of one's nerves in a single day and the tolerance element that I have found is unbelievable. And I am not unique—Mrs. H. (My husband says I should have signed this "A Mother in Orbit Every Day").

Comment: Mother I doubt that any astronaut could put down a week of taking care of the house and children, if they're bringing in easier. Hereby I make it official: I refuse to sell mothers short, whether they are on the ground or in orbit.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY RUE MILLER

THOSE PLAIN FLOODING POUNDS. As the saying goes, you can't eat your cake and have it, too. Toned-up the hips!
 Pounds gained over the holidays should be eliminated pronto. Weight has a way of stacking, once it begins to accumulate. And it is much easier to take off a few pounds than a plebeian.
 You can lose five or six pounds in two weeks by following this 1,000 calorie diet plan.
 Breakfast: ½ grapefruit or 4 oz. orange juice; 1 egg, soft-boiled or poached, on thin slice unadorned protein toast; beverage with milk if desired, but no sugar.
 Luncheon: 1 cup beef bouillon; cottage cheese, salad; 1 cup tossed with dried radish or celery or ½ lb. lettuce and tomato.
 Dinner: 8 oz. lean meat, fish or fowl (not fried); 4 cup non-starchy vegetable (such as carrots or spinach); 1 baked potato or small hard roll with ½ tsp. butter; raw fruit of choice; beverage.
 Between meals, skim milk, totalizing 1 pint.
 For her thin this diet will be suitable in order to follow for two weeks, but cannot be recommended for longer periods. To lose larger amounts of weight, you need a more suitable, long calorie count and/or upgraded amounts of nutrition. Otherwise you would have to suffer these tortures that give reducing diets a bad name.

KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter J. Steinerholm, M.D., President
Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

A MAN WITH EMPHYSEMA

Let's follow this man. Let's watch him as he reaches for a cigarette before he gets out of bed in the morning. He lies there puffing and coughing. He craves it in a large, airy, half-filled with slugs left over from the night before. He smokes another before breakfast. He inhales almost to the bottom of his foot.

His resting cough is unrelenting. But on the way to his office, in the office, and on the way home again he has put away the greater part of three packs of cigarettes.

This man won't stop smoking. He is 54. His shortage of breath, the blue in his lips, his apparent struggle to expel air—even as he sits—are indications that his heart is already overburdened, and that he is not likely to see his 60th birthday.

His doctor has warned him that he is committing slow suicide. He has told him that oxygen, the latest drugs, special exercises, and all the rest of the newer methods of treatment will be without value to him.

"But I can't stop, doctor," he says. "I've tried and I've tried. I can't say, doctor, from cigarettes more than two or three days. I'll give them up. It would kill me."

Such a man is in the apartment house predicament of the chronic alcoholic who is inviting arthritis—and worse. Neither the chronic alcoholic nor the chronic cigarette habit can be helped.

UP TO PATIENT TO QUIT

Their doctor's lectures and their wife's pleading falls on the proverbial ears that do not hear, unless the patient himself says: "I will!"—and means it.

His resting cough is unrelenting. But on the way to his office, in the office, and on the way home again he has put away the greater part of three packs of cigarettes.

Comment: My own feeling is this: I have never refused consultation when suggested by a patient. In many such cases nothing was to be gained in mind, the orthopedist may make additional suggestions which may improve your physical condition.

Even though he suffers the patient finds hope in the belief that everything possible

As to another enquiry, there is a colour film made for artificial light, and is generally referred to as "Type A" which, when used in daylight, must be exposed through a special filter which turns the blue daylight into the same colour as artificial light.

If the daylight type film is to be used in artificial light, a blue filter must be used over the lens, to cool the warmth of the artificial light and render it the same colour value as daylight. However, this is not very satisfactory as it lowers the speed of the film to away below the speed of the type

No. 24 Questions on flash

In last week's photo column, several lines of type were left out, making things rather incomplete, and in the last paragraph in the first column, posed a problem.

It reads "It is better to give only a short rinse in the running water that has been acidified. . . . It should have read, 'It is better to give only a short rinse in the running water from the tap, and then transfer to trays containing water that has been acidified with acetic acid.'"

The last portion of the second last paragraph of the article should read "If on the other hand, the room is quite large, with darker walls and furniture, use half a stop larger, than indicated; in fact, it may be necessary to use one full stop larger or, say, if one f/8 is used in the average room."

While on the subject of flash, here is a reply to an enquiry. It is true that the earlier Kodachrome film was recommended for use with ear flashbulbs. This film was marked with a "C" before its name, like C820. However, the new film, Kodachrome CX 620, or CX 135, is recommended for use with blue bulbs. On this newer film, there is a blue band diagonally across the corner of the cartridge, with the words "Use blue bulbs for flash."

If you were right in stating blue bulbs are to be used, and your brother was right when he said that you should use clear. The only thing was that he was going back a year or two.

As to another enquiry, there is a colour film made for artificial light, and is generally referred to as "Type A" which, when used in daylight, must be exposed through a special filter which turns the blue daylight into the same colour as artificial light. If the daylight type film is to be used in artificial light, a blue filter must be used over the lens, to cool the warmth of the artificial light and render it the same colour value as daylight. Be careful to remove the filter when coming back to photograph indoors. One thing that must be remembered is that daylight and artificial light must never be mixed. It must be all daylight or all artificial light.

Type A film used in daylight has a blue cast, and if the picture had been taken after dark. Sometimes this is an advantage, such as when the background is objectionable, as it prints it in a dark blue, but it is not ideal in the scene. In such a case, exposing for the close up flash would cause underexposure of the background.

Another question asked often is why flash is used out in the sun by many Press photographers. It is used as a fill in light, to kill hard shadows, and give detail in places where there is not enough light otherwise. Sometimes a photo of a celebrity must be taken in bright sunshine, which may cast a heavy shadow of the subject on the cheek of the subject, and the eyes to look of Cambridge on the week-like black holes, and accents on.

Centennial Report

1867-1967

By JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Report No. 4

The sound of a locomotive whistle in all its variations can produce waves of nostalgia in many Canadians, especially those of us who grew up in the steam generation.

A train's whistle has been a background accompaniment to life in small towns and cities throughout most of our nation's history. It played a major role for the frontier, moving west, our growth and development and the hustle of a busy Canada at work.

In many Canadian communities, large and small, the railway whistle was an announcement — of news from east or west, of the arrival of needed supplies or friendly visitors or new citizens or the departure of others on their way to greater adventures and new careers.

During Centennial Year 1967 a host, from a diesel locomotive pulling into town with its special exhibition cars, will herald the arrival of something big, unusual and exciting at more than 80 centres in Canada. This will be the Confederation Train.

During 1967 the Confederation Train will move from west to east, starting at Victoria where it was christened. The exhibits inside the train will face situations confronted by the early explorers and settlers of Canada. As they pass from car to car they will experience uncomfortable sensations of stagecoach passage to this new country, pause for reflection in the Chamber of Confederation and pass through periods of the last 100 years including the boom-and-bust twenties and the barren thirties, and the two world wars. Children will derive special benefits from the lively presentation of history.

For more than 700 communities not visited by the train a blast from the air horn of a tractor trailer will announce the arrival of a similar exhibit in a huge Centennial Caravan. There will be eight 73-foot tractor trailers made in Calgary — the largest trailers to ever travel on North American roads — containing exhibits similar to those on the train. A Caravan will be arranged on a community site in a specific quadrangle formation and its colorful, hold design will give the impression of a miniature fair. Travelling where roads permit the Caravan will be within the reach of the vast majority of Canadians. Many communities will stage local events in conjunction with the Caravan's visit.

Be sure to watch for dates of the visit of the Confederation Train or Caravan in your area. Your newspaper and Centennial organization will know the location and time.

Horse Cautions Excitement

"The exploits of John Giffin 'of credit and renown' were reproduced on Kent Street Friday afternoon when a fraction horse belonging to the staff of the 1968 Bazaar and hearing on its back a member of that organization, came clattering along the pavement from the armory at break-neck speed. The horse was evidently dissatisfied with something. It either did not like the weather or took a dislike to its rider, who hinged to the saddle with tenacity, although the horse was practically the air all the time. It had the pavement to itself, as no vehicle or pedestrian dare dispute the right-of-way. Fast along the main thoroughfare the animal dashed, and when it neared Britton's jewelry store there was many a stifled breath as the spectators expected it to go through the door. However, when the animal reached it, it was flapping its hind something hard. It was off on the pavement, and the rider, who was thinking unwholesome things, threw himself clear of the saddle and escaped unhurt."

Drive Buggies With Care

According to amendments made to the Highway Traffic Act, it will be an offence after July 1 to drive a buggy "without due care and attention or without reasonable consideration for other persons using the highway."

A further section provides that every person whose vehicle or animal damages any shrub, tree, pole, light, sign or other property on the highway must report to a police officer or constable.

Hotel Purchased

A real estate deal of major interest locally in the purchase of the Brooks Hotel, a landmark on Lindsay Street, south end, Fenelon Falls, by Mr. Elford of Toronto, a summer resident who intends to re-open the hotel as a summer inn.

Operated for many years by the late Mr. Henry Brooks, it was a convenient and popular rendezvous of the travelling public, including CNR officials, since it located only a block from the depot. A restoration of the hotel is now in progress.

Milk Still Best Buy

Milk and dairy products, instead of driving up the cost of living, have helped hold it down, according to Trevor L. Davies, president of the Ontario Milk Producers' Association which represents 300 Ontario dairies.

"Milk remains the best consumer bargain of any food, in terms of nutrition and health value. Its price increases have been among the most modest of all in a fast-rising economy," he said.

Mr. Davies said that in Toronto the price of home-delivered whole milk has increased from 25 to 27 cents per quart since 1962. Further increases in payments to dairy farmers by the distributors, required by provincial government marketing orders, might lead to other increases for the same reason, he predicted.

In some other foods since the same year, 1962," Mr. Davies said. "Potatoes in 16-pound quantity, have gone from 47.3 to 61.2 cents. Head lettuce has risen from 22.5 to 32.4 cents per pound. Bacon has increased by more than 28 cents per pound. Fresh tomatoes are up over eight cents per pound. Eggs have increased by 16 cents per dozen, and except for poultry, virtually all food items have shown similar price trends."

Mr. Davies said DIBC reports showed that dairy products including milk, ice cream and cheese, in November 1965, were actually lower in price than oranges, beef, pork, fish, fruit and vegetables. Since 1945, dairy products have risen 24 per cent. In price while the increase has averaged 35 per cent, for all foods.

"The dairy industry needs to make no apologies for its service to consumers in keeping down the cost of living," Mr. Davies said. "It must co-operate with provincial authorities who have required increased payments to dairy farmers for our raw material, and will continue to do so. The industry is striving to maintain efficiency and to survive in the face of rising costs for other commodities."

Does your camera go into hibernation for the winter? It shouldn't, but unfortunately many do. The films of today available as they are, in several different speeds and containers, make photography a delayed ignition which would cause underexposure.

One big advantage of doing this now, is that if any repair or adjusting is necessary, it can be done before the shops are crowded with work, as they will most certainly be, in the summer months. They will have more time to do a better job, and the camera will not be away so long. If your test film is normal, you will know you can look forward to a fine collection of vacation pictures. In my business as a professional photographer, I have seen many instances of returning vacationers, who have only blank film, or films so black they could not be printed, or blurred by the shutter being so slow that camera movement spoiled the pictures. They would pay anything within reason to have something done to get some kind of a record of the places visited. In some cases reduction of overexposed negatives could enable fairly good prints to be made, but in many other cases nothing could be done.

The recommended checking procedure would have eliminated all their heart aches, but to be made, but in many other cases nothing could be done. The recommended checking procedure would have eliminated all their heart aches, but to be made, but in many other cases nothing could be done.

This is a good time to get the photographic equipment in order for the spring and summer activities. Check the shutter for even speeds, try firing it a number of times. If it is slow or uneven in its timing, try releasing it for a long or so time on the higher speed settings. This frequently is all that is needed to get it operating properly, but if this does not work, a trip to the camera shop is indicated.

If the lens looks clean, the camera is free from dust inside, and the shutter seems to be working as it should, put a roll of film through it as a final and sure test. One or two exposures should be flash in order to be sure the synchronizer contacts in the shutter are not dirty, which would cause either no flash at all, or a delayed ignition which would cause underexposure.

At this time, some thought should be given to investigating the accessories obtainable for the type of work you will be doing. For instance, a close-up lens attachment is a very useful accessory, parti-

Miss Helen Alkerton of Niagara Falls is spending the Easter vacation with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jackett.

Because it is necessary in close-up work, more than in pictures from a distance, to have the camera at an exactly measured distance from the object, a tripod or similar camera support is a must. Trying to hold a camera perfectly still at, say, less than a foot from an object, without swaying even half an inch, toward or away from it, is a practical impossibility.

For most cameras, a cable release can be bought, enabling the shutter to be released without any vibration of the camera on the tripod, or the movement of the camera which can occur if the exposure is made by the camera release button.

frank about sports

Toronto Maple Leafs' Alvin Stanley proved his rather ineffective against the Montreal Canadiens as the Leafs' left the scene after just four games of Stanley Cup play. Coach Johnny Bower even looked lonely without his traffic director by his side.

Detroit Redwings were flying last night and even their series with Chicago Blackhawks at two games each. These colourful games will appear in colour on the watching machine in their next game Sunday.

Cobocook Lions Midgets climbed right back into the Ontario championship series with New Hamburg on Thursday, April 7th, having won the last of three series for the Midget "C" championship. A new tied at one game each. New Hamburg won the last for the third game which may be played at New Hamburg April 23rd. John Bryant's Cobocook handlers scored two goals in the third period to gain their win last night.

Oshawa General and North Bay Trappers start their best of seven series for the Ontario Junior championship tonight at Oshawa. The Trappers, reinforced by seven players, one from the Espanola Eagles, two from the Sudbury Wolves, and four from the Soo Greyhounds, could give the Generals a break work-out before the series is over. Play resumes in Oshawa Saturday with three games in North Bay next week.

New Hamburg Hanns lead Port Huron Indians one game to none in an Ontario Junior "C" best of five semi-final set. The winner will meet Parry Sound for the title.

Bolacaygon and Rheinhelm start their final series for the Junior "D" championship at Bolacaygon tonight. The next game is slated for Dresden Sunday night.

All roads will lead to Little Britain tomorrow night as Mark Cornell's Midgets battle Belmont for the Midget "D" championship. A full house is expected for the game and fans are assured of a wall to wall game of hockey.

KINSMEN PEE WEES LOSE SEMI-FINAL

Lindsay Kinsmen Pee Wees arrived home last night from Goderich a rather tired and disappointed group.

The Kinsmen kids gained the semi-finals, come up with a tie game only to lose out on a shots-on-goal count.

Clean-up Lindsay

Dom O'Connor, a recent resident of Lindsay, until a chance in jobs took him out of town has made some pertinent comments on community beautification in a letter written to the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. O'Connor comments on the natural resources and topography of the town, the water systems of the Stongies, the parks, trees and general layout of the town. "... what have we as citizens done with these natural assets?" he asks. "Without trying to be over-the-top and in the spirit of constructive criticism, I have never been in a town which contained so many dilapidated buildings and shacks completely unoccupied, old abandoned cars and general debris located on commercial property and private individuals property alike."

Mr. O'Connor comments that the fire hazard alone and the cost to the individual and town alike should be enough to have these blights removed, aside from civic pride.

Chamber of Commerce directors at a recent meeting voted unanimously to undertake a campaign to clean-up and beautify this community to get it ready for centennial year.

A clean-up and improvement of property could be each individuals contribution to Lindsay's centennial year. A lick of paint, some general tidying up and a great improvement to the town would be made.

In this connection it is pleasing to see the audubonizing operation carried out by Silverwood Dairies Company which Mr. McKessock says is the Company's continual contribution to the town's appearance, and improvements made by the McFarlane Machine and Foundry company. We hope their lead will be followed by others of town.

Canada in a nut shell

A living metropolis in miniature will open at Niagara Falls, Ontario, early this summer.

Called Canada City, it will consist of the nation's most noted landmarks laid out precisely to scale. Visitors will be able to see some 100 models of Canada's important structures in an 11-acre, park-like setting.

For those interested in marine times, there will be waterways, waterfalls and canals, ships and bridges. Included is a working replica of the famous Peterborough hydraulic lift lock, largest of its kind in the world.

Streets, buses, railways, cars and aircraft, complete with airport, will also be represented, along with major industrial facilities. Smoke billowing from buildings, the noise of ship and factory whistles, will add to the realism of the project, as will a cartillon, the hum of traffic and airport control instructions.

Historical sites and monuments will have their places too, besides a baronial castle, grain elevators and pulp mills that actually work.

Like Gulliver in Lilliput, visitors will feel like giants among the models, which are constructed to a 1/24 scale, one inch equalling two feet. Even so, reduced, some articles are 82 feet wide, some 32 feet wide. Steel-bulld ships are as long as 32 feet.

An animated band will play tunes and at night Canada will be illuminated by over 40,000 lights.

More than three years in the planning, research and making with a combined investment of $2 million, the exhibit puts Canada in a nut shell.

Remember

This Day 50 Years Ago

APRIL 20, 1916

Cadet Inspection

On Wednesday afternoon the annual inspection of the Collegiate Institute Cadet Corps took place, and once again the organization acquitted itself most creditably.

The inspection took place at the Agricultural Park, Major Leach of the 5th Regiment, Peterboro, being the inspecting officer. The cadets went through the different evolutions and manoeuvres with alacrity and precision, under the command of Lieut. Peterborough, cadet instructor. The boys displayed a high state of efficiency throughout, and carried themselves like veterans.

Lieut.-Col. Fee, who was also present, complimented the corps on its creditable showing, and announced that No. 3 Company (Capt. Wilford) had won the shield of points.

After inspection they paraded down Bond Street to Kent Street and west to the Collegiate where they disbanded. No. 3 company afterwards made merry as a result of their winning the shield, their popular captain being carried in triumph on the shoulders of several husky cadets.

Last night the cadets paraded Kent Street and thoroughly enjoyed themselves as only students can.

WAY BACK WHEN

Extracts from the files of the Lindsay Daily Post of twenty-five and fifty years ago.

APRIL 20, 1941

Hotel Razed By Fire

The Northern Hotel at Kilmount, a frame structure of some 35 rooms, was completely destroyed by fire shortly after midnight Saturday.

The loss is estimated at approximately $5,000 and this is partly covered by insurance it is believed.

The fire was discovered about 12:30 a.m. Sunday and before efforts could be made to check it, the flames had spread and the frame building was a mass of flames. It burned furiously for hours and the efforts of the volunteer firemen had to be directed towards saving nearby buildings which were being menaced by sparks and by intense heat.

The Northern Hotel, the Post is informed, had been closed for the winter and was owned by Austin Jackson.

Medicine Cases Recovered

The medical cases which were stolen from Dr. Wilby's office on Wednesday, were found near the fence between the southward school and the property of Mr. John Hutchinson. The contents of both were missing. The thief is apparently a victim of the drug habit, and he resorts to theft in order to satisfy his craving.

WARP AND WOOF by SCOTTY

Enough I shot a rocket in the air, I felt to earth, I know not where. Until next day, with rage profound, The man I fell on takes me around. In less than it comes to tell, He showed me where that rocket fell: And now I do not greatly care To shoot more rockets in the air.

This newspaper advertising goes way out altogether? Noticed full-page ad in Toronto Telegram, Friday, April 15, placed by a well-known Nursery. The ad showed a shapely bikini clad female front with a cow's head, and feet were cow's hooves, the crowning insult was title "Miss Manure of 1966". Now TRAIL!!

.....

"No man is well-disposed towards society until he has grasped the elementary fact that the only way to improve the universe is to improve myself and to leave one's neighbors alone".

.....

If April showers don't come soon there will be no Mayflowers. On a recent trip through the country we have never seen the roads so dry, the water in the swamps so low, and so little snow in the deep woods for this time of year. Could it be a dry hot summer coming?

.....

For Men Only To prevent scratching the fender of your car when backing out of the garage, tack a section of an inner tube on each side of the garage entrance.

If you have trouble with a narrow garage, here is a method for saving car's fenders. Suspend a ball from the center of the garage ceiling or door frame and line up the middle of the car radiator with it when entering.

You think your wife could use these hints?

Switzerland's secret is out—dial Operator 11 and you can get almost everything except a blind date. And perhaps this romantic feature will be added later by the hospitable Swiss.

Today when a motorist breaks down, he can merely call Operator 11 who will arrange emergency road service. Operator 11 is ready to serve in any kind of an emergency. Need a doctor in a hurry, or the address of a dentist nearby, or perhaps medicine late at night or on Sunday—just dial the two digits for help.

The quickest way to get a doctor these days is to turn on the television set.

A milk bottle fished out of the Pacific Ocean was found to contain a piece of water-soaked paper. But the writing on the paper was too faint to be deciphered. It was a case for the FBI. THREAT OF MAIL STRIKE LOOMS

The threat of a national mail strike loomed Sunday when representatives of letter carriers' associations from across Canada met in Preston and urged strike action to gain pay increases.

Wild applause and a standing ovation met a call by Roger Decarie, president of the Montreal Letter Carriers' Federation to operate a union rather than the social club that make up the federation and urged strike action if pay demands were not met.

Speaking at a meeting of 500 executives of the Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia letter carriers' association Sunday, Mr. Decarie said, "We want a contract with the right to strike. The demands all over Canada are the same. We don't want compulsory arbitration and it is up to us to take it into our hands and go on strike if our demands are not met."

Charles McGuire, president of the Hamilton branch which called the meeting, the first of its kind in Canada, told the delegates, who represented an estimated 5,300 of the 9,000 letter carriers in Canada, "We are going to go on strike if our demands are not met. This time we are not going to be the victims of uncertainty."

"There will be no claims of inflation to stop us," announced Mr. McGuire.

Mr. Decarie advocated that letter carriers seek a $50 a week increase instead of the $120 monthly raise being sought. The top salary for carriers is $4,905. Letter carriers received a $525 raise after the 1965 strike.

Why wait for 1967, '68, '69? SINGLE UNIT CONSTRUCTION FROM AMERICAN MOTORS!

When Rolls-Royce announced that it would build its new Silver Shadow model with monocoque construction we blushed with pride. We've used the same technique for years—except that we call it Single Unit Construction. The body and frame on all our cars are welded together into one, single, solid unit for tremendous strength and safety. It's only one of the advanced engineering features you get from American Motors today—features others won't offer you for years to come.

Engineering leadership is the extra value you get from American Motors. Year-ahead features. Built-in quality from drawing board to finished car. For example:

Double Safety Brakes. Not just one braking system, but two. If one set ever fails, the other stops you safely. (Double Safety Brakes have been an exclusive feature, at no extra cost, on all our models since 1962. Some other manufacturers have now announced that they will adopt this feature—but not until their 1967 models.)

Ceramic-Armoured Exhaust System. Not just sheet metal alone, but a ceramic-armoured coating exactly like the nose cone of a space rocket. Resists heat, corrosion, wear—season after season.

World's best roof-rinsing. All our cars get a "bath." They're deep-dipped up to their roofline in roof-rinsing compound six separate times. Then they're dipped again in primer and given a separate spray coat of primer. Then comes three gleaming coats of Lusta-Gard super enamel. You get a beautiful finish and long-lasting protection from the ravages of rust.

Most powerful standard engines in their classes. Swift, smooth, strong, main-bearing sizes. Powerful, vitals V-6's. Take your choice.

Widest range of seating options in the industry. Luxurious reclining seats (buckets, if you want). Armrests and adjustable headrests. And fine-furniture coil springs in all our seats in all our models. (Only one other North American car offers this—and it's in the luxury class.)

Fibreglass roofline and double door seals. A far cry from flimsy fabric rooflines and single door seals. Noise stays out. Drafts, winds, chills can't get in.

Attention to detail. American Motors offers the durability of plastic kick panels, all-metal rear-dock shelves, even ashtrays that roll out on ball bearings. Small details, yes—but they add up to overall quality.

Beautiful luxury fittings. A big, big selection! All the power equipment and features you want. And four consoles. Thick-cut pile carpeting. Wire wheel discs. Walnut interior paneling. Handstitched Check fabric. New vinyl patterns. Excellent styling in top-of-the-line Ambassador DPL. Ramble Rogues and Rambler Rebel.

New car quality. We believe that quality is what you build in—not what you add on. We build quality into all our cars from the beginning. We take the time. We take the trouble. We always have. We always will.

Young Driver—Bad Driver

The Government is to be urged to raise the minimum age for driver licenses to 18, St. George's says. The reason is that accidents while driving on transport estimates.

Many points out that there is no certainty about why youngsters under 18 should have licenses. Studies show that students who drive are less likely to be involved in accidents than those who don't.

Many youngsters can't afford cars or a good mechanical condition and end up driving "old beaters" with defective brakes and erratic steering," he charged.

Most traffic accidents are caused by drivers under 25. Sixteen year old

Rule for Beauty

"The most noticeable characteristic of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, and especially the twentieth is ugliness... at the root of the trouble is a lack of balance... We chase after a great number of desirable ends without any consideration how they affect our lives and surroundings."

It is significant that whenever we are obliged to pay full attention to the laws of nature we produce things of great beauty, the aeroplane for example, and the ship. Balance got a rule of nature and the natural world generally obeys it, and the balance we have to hold in our minds, in our cultural world and civilization. There are far too many people measuring all human happiness and aspirations in terms of material possessions. — Lieutenant Colonel Gerald Haythornthwaite, an architect and member of one of Britain's regional planning boards.

Teacher's Aid, Not Substitute

"Television can be a tremendously valuable teaching aid. It can never really be a substitute for the teacher because you can't see and hear the teacher on television screen. I think television is one of a whole complex of new aids which are going to provide educationally important results in teaching — things like tapes, language machines, flims—all those things the teacher has got to bring in in order to save his labour. The uses of the shortage of teachers can't be saved by the use of the thing that really matters — that is, the interplay between the teacher and the pupil."

—Lord James of Rusholme, Vice-Chancellor of the University of York.

Red Cross serves Canada

Nearly 90 per cent of the work performed by the Canadian Red Cross Society is done by volunteers. People from all walks of life, ranging from labourers to university graduates, are being recruited to carry on the work of the Society.

Not every Canadian community has prominent businessmen and leading citizens donate their time and talent in the administration of Red Cross work. In many communities, it is up to them to canvas for blood donors. They provide their sewing and knitting talent to the Red Cross and their work Committee. Men and women of all ages donate hundreds of thousands of dollars to the Red Cross for their Social Service. Teachers by the tens of thousands carry on the programme of the Junior Red Cross in their classrooms. Hundreds of Register Nurses volunteer their time and skills to instruct Red Cross Care in the Home and to instruct volunteer first aiders to help their neighbours when disaster strikes. Thousands of Canadian men and women are doing their part in the many Red Cross projects for veterans. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been donated to their blood. Million give their financial support.

Modern St. Georges

St. George, so the legend goes, long ago saw a dragon that was terrorizing and killing the people of his distant country. Canada has had dragons and still has many of them, but we call them illnesses. Our St. Georges are not going forth in shining armor, they are the medical scientists who are fighting the dragons of diphtheria, polio, diphtheria, and all those one-time major killer diseases. They are still waging war on diseases like meningitis, tuberculosis, liver diseases, arthritis and cancer. Many St. Georges in the civilized world are fighting the dragons of cancer.

A great deal is known already about

Laws and people

"The law, and its proper application, may look entirely different to the layman and the lawyer. An example is some opinions of Toronto lawyer Joseph Seligson that are not far from a report on immigration laws that he has prepared for the federal government.

Contrary to what has been going on, says the able and astute lawyer, legal residents of Canada have no legal right to request the admission to this country of their relatives, even if they are, unless, countries or finances. He recommends that, in keeping with the letter of the immigration laws, such requests should be limited to the wives and minor dependent children of citizens or those admitted for permanent residence.

Over 90 per cent of Italian immigrants are sponsored, states Mr. Seligson's report, over 90 per cent for Greece and Portugal, and 76 per cent for Hong Kong; only France, the United States and Ireland have figures less than 20 per cent. "From some areas at least," says the report, "immigration has become almost a business, leading to the exclusion of immigration based on selection having regard to the immigrants' skill or ability, except in the case of unskilled and functionally ill-drivers are not adults and do not act like adults. They do not have experience and they are not responsible in their driving.

Sunday in Lindsay was a bright, sunny and pleasant day and the young teen-agers were out in force, screaming tires, speeding through the streets. Nowing homes and generally making the driver who is not making the obit and worst-maintained cars.

Young drivers are bad drivers, and a new minimum of 18 years for a driver's license makes sense.

The British House of Commons

Now that the election is over in England, the analysis is beginning to look ahead at what the new sessions of one of the House's chief men.

Associated Press Writer Lawrence Markin says that, above all, when Parliament meets April 21st, the accent will be on youth.

The parliamentary newcomers — largely on Labor's side — are teachers, technicians and political professional men. The Conservative Party's new party gained 49 new seats in the House of Commons in its landslide victory. The Tories also gained 49 new seats. The Conservative government's moderation will take place only in a negative sense. The voters retired many of the Tory old guard leaders.

London observers see the new men as reflecting the mood of change in the country. Men who will, incidentally, help Conservative leaders Edward Heath to reform his party.

Some of Heath's Conservative technicians were upset on the Labor side. But some have been nominated in safe Tory districts and were elected as members of Parliament. ## No guarantee sewage system for Fenelon H.S. will work—Mayor

People at Fenelon Falls should be very concerned with the sewage system proposed for the Fenelon Falls High School, Lindsay Mayor John Eakin said at a press conference yesterday.

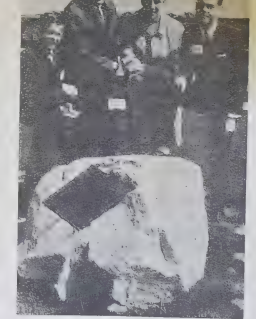

Mayor Eakin said there was no guarantee the system, which still awaits government approval, will work. He said sewage will be heavily chlorinated and then taken through a trunk sewer to the river. He said if the chlorination equipment fails, it will be a "fairly complex one", and once it has been approved, the final decision will be left with the Fenelon Falls Medical Officer of Health Dr. George Johnstone.

J. C. Trevis, director of Sanitary Engineering for the OWRG said, "We can't guarantee anything. If the system does not work once it is installed, we will require improvements be made."

Car seat fire

Total damage of $50 resulted when a burning cigarette lit the front seat of a car owned by Joseph Stant of 145 King Street early Sunday morning.

Lindsay fire officials said the car was on Vinny Road at 12:40 a.m. Sunday and a cigarette but placed in an ash-tray fell under the front seat and ignited it.

Four of the 42 finalists in the Ontario public speaking contest of Ontario. Lindsay's Patsy Henderson, from left, are: Victoria Cullen, Lindsay, and David Auld, Lindsay. David Auld was third in the elementary school section of the finals. ## School Boards of Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon and Vermilion Township may form an area school board Public School Inspector B. Barrett said yesterday he hoped the boards could reach a decision next week on whether they would join together and form an area school board.

Mr. Barrett said the three boards have been discussing for some time the possibility of merging and another meeting is being held one way or the other at the week-end meeting of the boards.

Mr. Barrett said if they decided in favour of the move they would have to bring the proposal to County Council's June session. Mr. Barrett said he did not know whether the boards would join, but they would decide one way or the other at the week-end meeting.

Fenelon Falls school officials feel if the merger goes through they may have to add up to six rooms to their public school. This would be the second addition to the school which was built about 12 years ago.

The Fenelon Falls school is overcrowded at present and Board of Education officials feel they would probably have to make an additional next year when the school area was formed or not.

Board Chairman Kenneth McLeod said there are nine classrooms and the auditorium is being used for classes. He said about 300 children attend the school.

Mr. Sangster said he was not convinced however that Fenelon Falls will go into a school area. He said he felt Fenelon Falls would grow as a result of Lindsay's industrial growth and Fenelon Falls will need all the room it can get.

He said the board has been studying the possibility of starting a kindergarten but there is no room in the school presently. He indicated at least a two-room addition would be necessary next year if there were no additional load on the school from being in a school area. He suggested a six-room addition be considered if they went into a school area. If such an addition were made, he said, it would probably be two stories.

The school at present is a one-story building.

None of the school boards have yet decided whether they will form an area board.

Lindsay woman gets centennial post

The Ontario Centennial Planning Branch, Toronto, reports that Mrs. J. J. Holton has been named Victoria County Chairman of the Women's Centennial Activities Committee.

Her duty will be to encourage Centennial planning, assist in the co-ordination of area celebrations and activities scheduled for 1967, and aid women's groups concerned with Centennial observance.

Mrs. Holton will be one of eight county chairmen working with Mrs. Mildred Barr, Peterborough, regional chairman of the committee.

FIRST GRASS FIRE

The first grass fire of the season brought the Lindsay Fire Department into action at 3:38 p.m. Friday. A grass fire that was extinguished within five minutes occurred at the rear of Duggan Motors on the Oakwood Road.

At 1:50 p.m. Friday a false alarm was received from the Lindsay Fire Department pumper and sent to the Victoria Fire Department. The springer alarm had triggered the false signal in error.

KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter J. Steinhorn, M.D., F.R.C.P.
Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

IT MAY BE FRUSTRATING BUT DOCTORS UNDERSTAND. Isn't it frustrating when you have had a toothache and it disappears completely by the time you sit down in your dentist's chair?

When you have been having heart skips for a few days that seem to turn over in your throat? And you think about your complaints even though they've disappeared temporarily.

When you are sure your heart is normal. No sign or sound of a heart skip.

When you are sure your weight is falling because you seem to need a stronger light to read by? You have an erection. The doctor says there's no need to change your lenses. Your vision is as good as it was two years ago.

When you have been having headaches day after day for at least two weeks. You sit in your doctor's waiting room. Your headache miraculously disappears. Your doctor says you never looked better in your life.

YOUR DOCTOR KNOWS

Don't feel foolish. Your doctor knows what nature plays tricks with. Toothaches, vision, heart skips, headaches, etc., have a way of confounding you, but they don't throw the doctor off the diagnostic track.

If there's one thing we learn by experience, it's this: absence of symptoms and signs don't mean that a patient has been exaggerating or fabricating.

Toothache or headache are both likely to return within minutes after the patient leaves the office. The heart skips may return the same night, while the patient is quietly resting in bed. If there's a moral it is this: Don't hesitate to tell your doctor about your complaints even though they've disappeared temporarily.

NIGHT DIZZINESS
Dear Dr. Steinhorn: What might cause dizziness for a few minutes on getting out of bed and standing up? It lasts until I talk to the bathroom—Mr. O.

Comment: If you are young, there's a possibility that you have postural hypertension, which falls in blood pressure on assuming the vertical position. If you are in the age group which commonly has arteriosclerotic changes, the temporary dizziness may be due to inadequate cerebral circulation. These are only two of what might be many more guesses. But rather than guess—better find out by discussing it with your doctor.

A FEMALE ALIBI
Dear Dr. Steinhorn: Is osteoporosis more common in women or in men?—Mrs. E.

Comment: These typical arthritic changes are observed more often in women. The reason is some tieup with hormonal imbalance which occurs at the time of the meno-

Easter service

Dalrymple, (PNS)—A bright and beautiful Easter Sunday brought a full congregation to worship at Dalrymple United Church, Mr. Moore preaching. Two solos by Mrs. E. Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. R. Day added to the service. An Easter lay was placed in the church by Rev. Parker in the memory of the late Mrs. Park. Baskets of flowers were also in the church, a gift of the family of the late Mrs. Jack Thompson.

pause. For that reason, some physicians believe that giving a combination of male-female hormones is one of the most essential parts of the treatment.

The trouble is that many patients with osteoporosis do not know they have it until many months and years have passed because they have been content to treat themselves with aspirin, hoping they would improve. By that time, there may already be destruction of bone and already the spine. It's always wise to determine early just what is causing that ache in the back or elsewhere.

Mr. V. I. D. not believe in one's blood to a hospital to get a blood transfusion of tonic. If you need iron it's better to take it in pill form, rather than invite possible transfusion reaction. Many doctors believe that if you need only one pint, you don't really need a transfusion.

Cost of Living

The cost of living is an ever-present problem to those of small income and of concern to those of larger incomes. Income taxes, sales taxes, school taxes and municipal taxes are becoming a burden and something to both worry and complain about.

As the cost of living rises, more unions appeal for higher wages and the prospect of inflation does not seem to deter them from their course. This lack of concern seems to be prevalent by every labour group in every country where inflation has got out of hand.

It is surprising to hear from so many sources the appeal for more and more "government" assistance to assist municipalities and county councils, as though this would save the taxpayer money.

Recent comments by Prime Minister Lester Pearson might well be printed and framed and put behind every councillor, county councillors and board members desks: "It is a common and careless assumption, but a false and dangerous one, that federal expenditures are from some other source than your own pocket; that the government pays not you."

"JERT A SECOND"

"Don't worry, we'll have you out of here in no time — the hospital's on fire!"

Centennial Report

A television series about the drama of life in New York City used to end this way: There is eight million stories in the Naked City. This has been one of them."

Around Centennial Commission headquarters at Ottawa we are beginning to look at Canada's 1967 celebration in the same way. There are many thousands of national, provincial and local projects under way across Canada to mark our 100th birthday and they all make stories. The big national projects alone are numbered in dozens — the Confederation Train and the Caravan, a 4,000-mile canoe race, the Canada Festival, the Youth Travel program; programs for the performing arts, visual arts, folk arts, athletics, fine printing, new buildings for arts centres, museums and so on.

I am going to tell you in this column of one of the national projects about which I am quite excited. It is the Armed Forces Tattoo, the big big cross-Canada showpiece will be presented by the Department of National Defence. At the time of writing I am particularly excited about this event because I have been in my mind an advance look at the program. At Centennial Commission headquarters recently Brig. C. Arnold Pack and Captain Ian Fraser of the Department of National Defence Centennial planning staff, pointed out the two-hour show — of which there will be 147 performances across the country — and provided storyboards, illustrations and taped excerpts of the stirring music especially composed for the Centennial.

I can predict that Canadians will be given a thrilling surprise when they see the Armed Forces Tattoo, which will be one of the highlights of the 1967 celebrations. The advance presentation which we saw and heard at Ottawa showed that the Forces' project is being conducted in a highly professional manner.

There will be 50 colorful selections in 12 major scenes of the Tattoo with static bands, marching bands, pipes and drums, scenes from history as far back as 1613, a naval ship gun-battling race over obstacles, a drummer boy's idea of what war was like in 1812, 150 editors dancing a hornpipe, action seen on the battlefield — even an actual World War II Spitfire in an enactment of a Battle of Britain "scramble".

The Armed Forces Centennial team has done research deep into history, through the years to the period when the early French and British regiments were stationed in Canada, and they have produced not only the music of the regiments but also the evocative songs of the centuries and mores which also have been sung by the citizens of yesterday and today.

Research also has been done for the Tattoo in Europe by Captain Fraser for consideration of the best military tactics, productions and techniques at Edinburgh and on the continent. Captain Fraser, it has been pointed out, pointed the Armed Forces show at the Seattle World's Fair which proved to be one of the highlights of that exhibition.

After seeing the very professional advance work done by the Defence Department's Centennial staff I do not hesitate to recommend that you watch for the date of the performance, whether it be an indoor one or an outdoor one, nearest to your area and be sure to attend.

Memorial For Church

Two long memorial tablets to the memory of the late Lt.-Col. F. Holmes Hopkins and Mr. George S. Patrick have been placed in position in St. Paul's Church.

The tablet to Col. Hopkins has been placed on the east side of the church near the entrance and the tablet to George S. Patrick has been placed on the west side.

Vine Destroyed

On Thursday night about midnight, a despicable act of vandalism was perpetrated at the Royal Hotel when some scoundrel deliberately destroyed the vine on the east end of the stable on Lindsay Street.

This vine was greatly prized by Mrs. McConnell and she has offered a reward of five dollars for information leading to the guilty party.

Chief Shurt is working on the case and severe punishment will be meted out if the party is apprehended.

Although it was known that the late Mr. Higgs had a weak heart he had appeared in fairly good health and excellent spirits recently and on Monday afternoon had been out making cheery pastoral calls and visiting a sick member of his congregation.

Koyl, consulting architect for the Provincial Department of Reform Institutions, presented a number of slides along with his description accompanied members of the board with various types of facilities which should be provided in a detention centre.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF Women

with Helene Scott

The Founders Award and the Gennell one hundred dollar award was won by Lindsay's Patricia Gill at the Festival of Stars in Peterborough, the climax of the Kiwanis Music Festival. The Founders Award is given for the most outstanding performance by a single artist in the entire festival.

The Annual Meeting of the Ross Memorial Hospital will be held in the Board Room on Wednesday, April 27 at 8 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

On the agenda will be the reading of annual reports, the selection of 4 members to the Board of Governors, and transaction of such business as may be brought before the meeting.

It is interesting to learn that this will be the 63rd annual meeting of the hospital.

A buffet dinner in St. Mary's Auditorium marked the 45th Anniversary of the Catholic Women's League. The history of the League from 1921 to 1966, was given by the President, Mrs. H. O'Reilly, who spoke on the many activities that the C.W.L. had participated in.

Mrs. M. Donahue, R.N., of Peterborough was the guest speaker. Mrs. Donahue is the R.N. in charge of the Peterborough Cancer Clinic. In her interesting and informal address, she stressed the point that the League should have more study groups and panel discussions.

Variety gives life its spice, but the dreary fact remains that monotony is what provides the groceries.

There's an art to saying the right thing at the right time. A young lady was having trouble with her dancing partner, the father of a friend. "Excuse me sir," she said, "but could you walk a little faster? I believe this is a rumba."

If you want something done, go. If not, send your husband.

Tomorrow night at the Academy Theatre, see three, one-act plays presented by three high schools, all winners in their own district festivals. Sponsors of the festival, Simpson-Stear Ltd., is providing trophies for the regional competition here tomorrow night, as well as taking care of other expenses. Trophies will be presented to the winning play and to the best actor and best actress. The admission is only 50c.

10 Rules For Happiness. Have faith. Find a way to serve others. Let love rule your life. Find a purpose in life. Respect authority. Worship your God. Think constructively and creatively as happiness is a way of looking at life. When things are bad be thankful they are not worse. Stick to right principles. Let quietness, contentment and peace rule your life, and the beauty of inward peace can flourish even in the confused late middle of the twentieth century.

There are different ways of doing things.

As everyone supposes. Some folks turn up their sleeves at work.

Hints... Helpful.

Caution: Don't mix bleaching and bowl cleaners, ammonia, lye, "rust removers", vinegar, oven cleaners or other cleaning compounds.

When washing shirt collars (and you know how stained they can get) put shampoo on the grease stains. Shampoo is made to dissolve body oils and it works wonders on shirt collars.

For white nylon curtains use espom salts in the rinse water.

What's Cooking? Stargazed Stew.

For one of those days when your in bed with a good case of the flu? Mix these things up in a casserole dish that has a tight lid:

2 lbs. stew meat, cubed; 1 can little tiny peas; 2 chopped onions; 1 tsp. salt; dash pepper; 1 can cream tomato soup thinned with 1/2 can water (or celery or mushroom soup thinned likewise); 1 big raw potato sliced; piece of ya leaf. If you don't like the onions or salt, leave out. Put the lid on and put casserole in a 275 oven. Now go back to bed. It will be done in 5 hours.

Idiot Unions

Combine a can of drained small onions with a can of cream sauce (or make two cups of your own and add a dash of Worcestershire to it). Put the mixture in a flat pan, sprinkle Parmesan heavily on top, and bake at 325 for 25 mins.

Smiling Time

Asked to explain the contribution of Thomas Edison to science, one boy wrote "If it weren't for Thomas Edison, we would have to watch television by candlelight!"

Drove while impaired fined $100

A 58-year-old Lindsay man Dennis Kear of 55 Sussex St. South, was fined $100 and costs in Lindsay magistrate's court for driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

The charge was reduced from one of drunk driving. Lindsay Police Constable Ralph Fountain told the court Kear was charged after his car struck a van owned by Lindsay Specialized Cleaners, driving it into the wall of a building occupied by All Day Machines on Lindsay St. South and then crashed through the rail of the Lindsay Street bridge, stopping with its front end protruding over the parking lot to the north of the All Office Machines building.

Constable Fountain said damage in the crash totalled $1,175.

The officer said the accused was unsteady on his feet, his breath smelled of alcohol and Kear was not sure what had happened.

Set "Priorities For Progress" Former Governor Urges Kinsmen

Gerry Connolly, one of two former Kinsmen Governors honoured with life membership at a Kinsmen Life Mem Day event on Wednesday, appealed to Kinsmen to continue to support and promote these things. "We should lead the way to strengthen the bonds of understanding among all citizens", he said.

Mr. Connolly was addressing Kinsmen and many guests at a special evening when he and former Governor Jack Gleeson, now of Ottawa, were made life members of the Association of Kinsmen.

"1967 is Canada's Centennial year," said Mr. Connolly, "our Centennial Year. As Kinsmen and as individuals, now may be the time to review our objectives and to set down for the future 'Priorities for Progress'."

Mr. Connolly suggested as number one "priority for progress", an outward expansion of tangible interest in the success of Canada's various programs. "A method that comes to mind is through the Provincial Citizens Committee, part of the Department of Tourism, which is making available during 1987 a number of theatrical attractions which will tour throughout the province. These will be partly subsidised so that a higher standard will be available than could normally be expected. I suggest as a 'priority for progress', that the Kinsmen Club of Lindsay consider and investigate the possibilities of working with the Academy Theatre Foundation, to promote one or more of these events."

"1966, the ninety fifth year since Confederation, will also be known as the year in which Canada's population passed the 20 million mark. At 20 million the national population is just about what the Royal Commission on Canadian Economic Prospects in 1962, our labour force projected it to be. Looking ahead to 1975 — we are probably going to be 25 million."

"Everyone in this room would agree that in Canada, the educational upgrading of our youth, our labour force and future leaders represent an area of major challenge in the years immediately ahead. 'Priorities for progress' would be the formation of education committee groups in Kinsmen, Kinsmen leadership, to work with municipal councils and school boards. I suggest that this challenge must be done to create a better understanding between citizens and officials. As we as Canadians can do no less than give our best effort to meet tomorrow's demands."

Mr. Connolly continued, "Canada's motto, 'from sea to sea' — we should accentuate the things Canada has in common, rather than emphasizing our differences. We must strive to promote a commonality between Newfoundland fishermen and the prairie wheat farmer. We must strive to be the closest friend and the B.C. logger — all are Canadians — with varying interests, but with a common stake in Canada's future."

"A third priority for the progress of Canada is the promotion of exchange children's visits — that is, we as citizens of Canada should be active in other provinces and exchange children's visits, particularly in the areas of agriculture. I believe that the Kinsmen

DAIRIES TO SHARE MILK BUSINESS AT THE VICTORIA COUNTY HOME

Victoria County Home management committee today decided to split their dairy products business between two local firms, a move about which the committee members learned at a meeting one night while milk from the farm dairy herd was being sold to the home unless, due to shortage, pasteurized milk had to be purchased. Later an arrangement was made where Silverwoods Dairies Ltd. would accept shipments of bulk milk in the amount equal to that amount of pasteurized milk purchased by the home, and all pasteurized milk was used.

Committee members were told that this arrangement continued for some time until Silverwoods changed its transporting incoming milk in cans to the bulk truck transportation, at which time the superintendent at the home received word from Silverwoods that bulk milk could now have to be purchased at the home. At that time the management committee decided against the $30,000 investment, and at McMillen's Dairy still handled their supplies by the can, the account was switched to McMillen's Dairy who accepted about two cans of milk per day and pasteurized milk was purchased as milk was required.

Frank Dovel, representing Silverwoods Dairies Ltd. addressed the management committee today and asked the committee would consider giving Silverwoods a share of the business. He said McMillen's Dairy have had all the business for some six years, and they were now turning away taxpayers in the community and employed some 60 people. He said he had 300 milk suppliers in the area and he said the firm represented would appreciate a share of the business. He did not suggest the business be shared on the basis of the number of suppliers, but on the basis of the number of people benefited by each firm, suggesting the possible sharing of the business.

The management committee discussed the matter and decided a fifty-fifty split would be appropriate. The agreement was made on purchasing from McMillen's Dairy for four months starting May 1st, and the balance of the business was to be shared on Silverwoods for the next four months, and so on.

Home Superintendent Laurie Keeler said the bulk transportation programme was instituted at the request of the community.

The accused swerved into the ditch and crashed into a hydro pole causing $475 to damage. He was fined $25 and costs in court.

The accused was stopped by a man, not an occupying car. He said

Magistrate Jim Munro said the accused was driving on Highway 7, just west of Oakwood about 7 p.m. and had pulled into the ditch.

SLIMMING THE STOUT MAN

That a stout man will look thinner in a snug-fitting clothes is an erroneous idea. The notion that less cloth gives the appearance of less man is not true.

In fact, easy fitting garments will look less bulky as well as more relaxed and comfortable.

Firm, worn fabrics have a slimming effect which bulkier weaves do not. Color is also important - dark colors create the illusion of slowness for the heavy set man. Thin vertical stripes also tend to slim, while large plaid patterns and horizontal stripes should be avoided.

Frank about sports

Detroit Redwings left little doubt in the outcome of the second game of the Stanley Cup final, their four goal third period was rather unimpressive, but no one however do not make a series, and the Canadiens will be out to prove that when they move to Detroit for Thursday and Sunday games.

Perry Sound Brunswick won the best of seven Junior "C" final series with a 5-4 win at New Hamburg last night. The series returns to Perry Sound for a Thursday game, tied at two wins each.

Speaking at Junior "C" hockey, we notice John Gould of the Aurora Tigers, was picked up by Tulsa of the Central Pro League in the recent draft, and Cunningham's Dale McVey of the Peoria Peas was drafted by Toronto Maple Leafs. Philmy Myer, sensational player with Shawinigan Falls was drafted by Montreal Canadiens.

Anybody for industrial football, men's type? A meeting has been called by recreation director Harry Johnson, to be held at the Rec. Centre Tuesday May 3rd, at 7 p.m. It is understood that several local industries are interested in forming a company football team, and a lively league at the George Street park should draw well.

Whether permitting the Lindsay Orphans of the Tri County Ladies League play their first practice at the Williams Street park, Saturday morning 10 a.m.

Becor players are working out nightly at the Central school until arrangements have been completed to practice at the farm grounds. The intermediates scheduled to start under way, and the team starts will soon be in action.

Players for the Central Senior school football league are turning out in record number in both boy and girl organizations. Entries will soon be received for the minor league after a good start last year.

Active programme for Circles 8's

Lindsay Circle Rights have an active programme ahead of them for the summer months. Their Lindsay programme which has been carried out by the Central Central School gymnasium will close the indoor season with a "Wagon Wheel" week on May 14th.

Over 30 Circle rights journeyed to Peterboro recently to take part in a mammoth square dance programme at the Peterboro armories. Some 500 people attended the rally with as many as 48 squares on the go at the calling of Campbell's one caller Earl Park. Proceeds of the evening were dedicated to the Crippled Children's building fund.

During the summer months, Circle Rights square dancers will go along with other clubs will again attend the Wednesday night programme at the Lakeshore Farm. Approximately 50 members of the Circle Rights are expected to take part in the "Square Dancing" and their cards entered to take part in square

FIRESTONE MANAGER FORECASTS LARGE EXTENSION TO THE LINDSAY PLANT

"Speaking as an American, come competitive with United States manufacturers. He said I would say Canada needs to invest in its future" said Charles Breece, U.S.-Canada Goodwill week speaker at Kivnaw Tuesday.

Speaking on United States-Canada industrial relations, the manager of the Firestone plant in Lindsay said, Canada herself can support many of the U.S. industries coming into Canada if the people of Canada will invest in Canada.

Mr. Breece said the Canadian and United States governments cooperate not only on the home front but in foreign lands as well. He said they are fighting together the common enemies of air and water pollution.

On the economic front, Mr. Breece said the revision of custom duties on automotive vehicles and parts was one of the most progressive steps of our time. He said each dollar of export will earn removal of duty on one dollar of import goods. This could lead to between 150 million and two hundred million increase of U.S.-Canadian business annually.

Turning to the local application, Mr. Breece said the new trade agreement allows Canadian Companies to be through into xy"

In closing Mr. Breece said "the sooner, God willing, that they take away this imaginary line between United States and Canada the better things will be".

Mr. Breece said the citizens in the United States had trouble understanding the benefits to U.S. of the agreement. He said the United States government was at present subsidizing 200 U.S. workers when their factory moved to Canada.

The international goodwill speaker said the object of the trade agreement between United States and Canada was to create an increase in Canadian production and employment, and noted the effect was already very noticeable in Lindsay.

Mr. Breece said when the agreement was introduced, Canadian manufacturers were warned that they must keep abreast of United States manufacturers or they would fail. "We at Firestone have no intention of failing. A large extension to the Lindsay plant is already on the drawing board and we intend to get in to other rubber products," said the Lindsay plant manager.

These two countries (United States and Canada) have already taken important steps and other commodities in addition to those of the automotive field will soon follow in the benefit of new trade agreements," said Mr. Breece.

"The people of Lindsay are no different than those in United States, but you cannot beat Canadian hospitality," the guest speaker said. "This is a small community made up of very very good people who are interested in the town of Lindsay," he continued, "and never has the Firestone Company asked for help that it was not provided." He predicted the community of Lindsay will expand, and it can only do this Williams of Lindsay who was in his 84th year and which occurred at the Toronto General Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Tremere of Lindsay called on some of her friends and relatives in the village on Monday of last week. Mr. Harvey Webster has purchased the school at Manilla and Mr. Webster and staff of men have been removing the building and making the same into apartments.

The final meeting of the Little Britain United Church Fellowship group and consisting of various kinds of games for the winter months was held on Wednesday afternoon of last week with a fairly good attendance and will be resumed again next fall.

CANNINGTON BUDGET UPS TAXES

Cannington (PNS) — Cannington's Municipal Council has adopted the annual budget for the year 1968 at last Monday's Council meeting.

The new rates are 91 mills for residential property and 100 mills for the commercial property. This is an increase of 8 mills residential and commercial over 1965.

The mill rate for general purposes is actually reduced by 4/10ths of a mill. This means that the functions of the municipality which are controlled and administered by Council require a lower tax rate in 1968 than in '65.

The mill rate for Public School purposes is reduced by 4/10ths of a mill from 1965 rates.

The increase in taxes this year is required for County and High School purposes. The largest increase is to help pay for the new additions and alterations to the Brock District High School. The rate for the High School purposes is increased by 8 1/2 mills.

The County of Ontario requires more money to operate this county so the mill rate is increased by 1/2 mill. To the average homeowner this will mean an increase in his taxes of about $16.00. If an assessment is $3,000.00 taxes will increase by $24.00 in other words for each $100.00 assessment on your property taxes will increase by $0.60.

Beggs - Bate united in matrimony

A lovely candlelight wedding was solemnized on Sat. March 26th, at 7 p.m., in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Lindsay, when Margaret Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bate, Lindsay, and Ross Stanley Beggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beggs, of Cameron, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Canon H. H. Hesteth of Peterborough officiated.

The wedding music was ably played by Mr. H. J. D. Moss, organist at St. Paul's, and the soloist Mrs. Dorothy Johnston beautifully sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of Ottoman Italian tie silk, designed with rounded neckline and long fully pointed sleeves. The inserted Empire waist was accented with a sheath skirt, embroidered with hand rolled roses and stems and carried through on the detachable Chapel train, caught at the waist. Her pearl and Burvanian crystal crown with inserts of Alencon lace appliques, was highlighted with a finger-ring veil of silk illusion worn softly over the face. She carried a cascade of sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honour, Mrs. Donna Elliott of Danford, was gowned in jewel rose pea de sole with Alencon lace empire bodice fashioned with a round neckline and elbow length sleeves. Her floor length sheath skirt was complemented with a detachable wattleau train caught at the shoulders. She wore a matching pearl edged flowered headpiece with a circular veil, matching shoes and white gloves, and carried a cascade of white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Susan Bate of Willowdale, and Wendy Lou Bate of Peterborough, nieces of the bride, wore identical floor length dresses of jewel rose pea de sole with empire waists, elbow length sleeves and sheath skirts, matching pearl and flowered headpieces with circular veils, matching shoes, white gloves, carried cascades of white carnations.

The best man was Robert

Beggs of Toronto, brother of the groom. The ushers were Orville Beggs of Penelon Falls, brother of the groom, and Tom Purdy Jr. of Willowdale, nephew of the bride.

The reception was held at the I.O.O.F. Hall, the bride's mother receiving in a gown of champagne beige with a bodice of imported gold threaded French lace with scalloped neckline and elbow length sleeves, lace appliquee skirt accented with a panel at the back. She chose a matching hat of organza petals and beige accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The groom's mother assisted in a Queen's blue lace with pink organza hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

For the honeymoon, the bride chose a three piece tweed woolen suit in melon shade with matching coat, navy blue Briston sailor hat and navy accessories. Her going away corsage was of sweetheart rose buds.

The out of town guests were from Toronto, Peterborough, Windsor, Detroit, Hamilton, Sarnia, Penelon Falls, Cameron, and other points.

Water Board Officials "Inspect" New Filtration Plant Addition

Members of the Lindsay Water Board were on a tour of the expanded filtration plant located on Mary Street East, by Superintendent Robert Reynolds.

The filtration plant, adjacent to the pumping station, has recently been expanded to three times the original capacity, and the addition is presently in the final stages of assembly.

Explaining the detailed process involved in purifying Lindsay's water supply, Superintendent Reynolds followed the water flow from the time it leaves the Suck-Graver until it leaves the plant as clear water on its way to one of the two storage tanks.

Mr. Reynolds said the water is drawn from the river low lifts pumps at the river bank, and pumped into the filtration system by another set of low lift pumps in the filtration building.

The first process involved in treating the raw water is done by passing it through a Suck-Graver collector. A Graver re-activator, a piece of equipment is known as a Suck-Graver, is circular in shape and has an inner funnel shaped cone about 20 feet across at the top.

The new addition to the plant is similar to the units that have been in use since 1910, but have twice the capacity, he said.

The raw water is piped into the lower section of the cone shaped inner tank, at the bottom of which an electrically driven impeller whirls the water causing the clear water to rise to the top. The water is then automatically pumped out of the bottom of the cone at timed intervals.

The clear water at the top flows into the outer tank and the tank and troughs placed around the perimeter of the outer tank gather the clear water and conducts this water to the filter beds by gravity flow. This unit has a capacity of 4,400 gallons per minute, he said.

Mr. Reynolds said the new filter beds have an area of 768 square feet. Concrete slabs suspended above the floor contain small cones and above the floor some 70 tons of anthracite is spread to filter the water. As the water seeps through the anthracite, it collects under the sub-floor then flows to the clear well below the filter basins. From here he said, the water is pumped by high rise pump to the two storage tanks on the east and west ends of the town.

Mr. Reynolds told the board members the filter beds are flushed, usually daily, by a reverse flow process. He explained the control panel he had designed for controlling the flushing process. The panel has control valves and switches that motivate larger valves and control the magnetic devices to cause the reverse flow of water and air to the filter beds.

Mr. Reynolds also explained the many instruments and controls on the main panel that automatically control the functions of the plant. He showed the recording of water flow water pressure, and reserve capacity at all hours of the day and night. He also pointed out that the water is pumped to the storage tanks for the excess of pumpage over demand, and noted that tanks are usually kept almost full.

Additional pumping capacity will be installed in the new pumping station in the near future, and the new addition to the filter beds will be in the arrival of several new valves and an air compressor.

Describing a filter control panel he designed, during a recent tour of water board members, Robert Reynolds, water board superintendent, describes its function to members of the board. Finger-tip controls on the panel permit complete control of the reverse flushing of the filter beds and will be located immediately beside the beds permitting visual observation of the process.—"Post" staff photo.

Mayor Criticizes Building Eyesores In Town: Urban Renewal A "Godsend"

A 13-year-old Central Senior School student, David Burke of 5 Melbourne Street East, stops to look at the half demolished building, formerly occupied by Victoria Parks, at the corner of Russell Street and Victoria Avenue. Lindsay's Sanitary Inspector C. D. Newbigh says the building in its present state is dangerous to children's safety but the town can do nothing about it.

Sharp criticism was levelled at owners of buildings and properties which, Lindsay Mayor John Ekins said, are "eyesores" at a Health Board meeting on Thursday night.

Chief among those which came under fire from Health Board members were a Kent Street building owned by Philip Albers which was gutted by fire in the spring of 1963 and a half demolished building at the corner of Russell Street and Victoria Avenue, formerly occupied by Victoria Parks.

The charred remains of the Albert building on Victoria Street, said, almost unchanged since first swept through three years ago, and drawn unfavourable comments from visitors to town.

The other building, which Sanitary Inspector C. D. Newbigh described as "a hazard" is according to Lindsay Mayor John Ekins, being demolished in stages.

Mr. Newbigh said the demolition permit for the building at Russell and Victoria Avenue was issued about two years ago.

Often children are seen playing around the large wooden beams which are half down, or running over boards which have rusty nails and spikes protruding from them.

Also mentioned were two residences on Queen Street. Referring to the Albert building on Kent Street, Mayor Ekins said there has been no attempt made to rehabilitate it; it was just fenced off and left.

The Mayor in mentioning the buildings referred to the unsafe condition of some of them, the health hazard and the poor impression they created on newcomers to town.

He and board members urged citizens to look at their properties and remove hazards and eyesores. "It stings a little when new people in town mention the poor state of some of these properties,"

"Especially when you can't do anything about it," added Medical Health Officer Dr. Norma Gill.

Dr. Gill explained that the answer to correcting problems Sanitary Inspector and the town can "people who don't MOH could take action where give a boot".

There was a health hazard there appeared to be nothing which could be done about the some of the other problems, except rely on public initiative.

Mayor Ekins said when the town started its urban renewal programme, which had been referred to as "Pro-gramme Progress" they would have some legislation with "some teeth in it" to correct the problem.

Board member Ray Lawson agreed that was the answer.

Mayor Ekins said urban renewal will be a real Godsend for the town, and the answer to correcting problems.

Cars collide near drive-in

Total damage of $550 resulted Saturday night when two cars driven by 56-year-old Francis Traynor of 68 Russell Street West and 25-year-old John Keenan of 30 St. Lawrence Street collided near the A & W Drive-in restaurant.

Lindsay Police said Keenan was eastbound on Kent Street West and stopped his vehicle for a car which was turning into the restaurant. The Traynor vehicle collided with the rear of the Keenan car, said police.

Lindsay Police Constable Ralph Poulton investigated.

$800 DAMAGE

A car driven by an 18-year-old Toronto youth, David Laughlin, sustained $800 damage when it went out of control on Lindsay Street South and crashed into a light standard at the corner of Russell about 6:30 a.m. Sunday.

Police said the car was northbound on Lindsay Street when the accident occurred. Police said it was foggy at the time.

The driver reportedly claimed he may have fallen asleep at the wheel.

CAR ROLLS OVER

A car driven by a Markham man, Jack Johnson, sustained $1,200 damage in Emily Township when it went out of control and rolled on a township road about 8 p.m., Saturday.

Lindsay OPP said the car had been on a gravel township road about a mile east of County Road 33 when the driver lost control and the car slid into the ditch and rolled over.

Lindsay OPP Constable Edward Davies investigated.

IS ANYTHING BEING DONE ON ARTHRITIS RESEARCH?

Dear Dr. Steinbock: Is anything being done about arthritis? My wife, who is only 45, is practically crippled by rheumatoid arthritis. Isn't that pretty young to have it? Is there any cure? Mr. T. Comment: Rheumatoid arthritis doesn't limit its attacks to any age group. Over 60 per cent of those disabled are under 45. When you consider that over 4 million Americans suffer from rheumatoid arthritis, that is quite a lot of painful disability. It's undoubtedly in our number one cripple in this country.

It is part of a constitutional disease which begins by inflaming the soft tissues around the joints and often ends in rigidity and deformity of the joints. Doctors try various remedies, but unfortunately we have no specific cure. We can help, but only quacks promise they can surely cure. In answer to your question, Mr. T.: "Is anything being done about it?" the answer is yes. We haven't forgotten the 12 million Americans who suffer from arthritis of all kinds (osteoarthritis, gout, infectious arthritis, spondylitis, rheumatic fever, lupus, etc.).

The Arthritis Foundation is conducting nationwide research. We have not forgotten arthritis while researching diseases of the heart and cancer. When we find the actual cause of rheumatoid arthritis, for ex-

55th wedding anniversary

Bethany, (PNS) — Mr. and Mrs. John Neale entertained with a family dinner party for her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland, on the occasion of their 55th wedding anniversary.

Meanwhile, see that your wife has the benefit of doctors especially interested in overcoming rheumatoid arthritis. Just taking aspirin isn't sufficient. She may need special rehabilitation measures and drugs to overcome her pain and disability. All we can do is keep hoping that help is near.

ALWAYS SLEEPY

Dear Dr. Steinbock: Are there some people who require lots and lots of sleep? I've been tired all my life. I've had checkups at least every three years and nothing definite has been found. When I was a teen I can remember sleeping through study-hall and always being tired when I woke up. After marriage and after the children came, I've blamed it on nerves.

Now the children are teen and I have the whole day of it myself. I sleep away half of it. I can't go to bed again to come so I can go to bed again. I can't be my nerves. If I was more relaxed I'd be dead! I'm not really sick and yet I feel like I think a person might feel if he was doped. And yet I take no medication. So it all comes down to my being either lazy or just a person that really requires a lot of sleep. I live in a nice house, have three nice teen-agers and a hard-working husband who devotes his time and money to the family. So

What is your professional opinion? Some one who thinks that the ideal vacation would be to sleep for a week straight through and not even be disturbed for meals? I had a wonderful childhood and two wonderful parents. I have had a good life with only minor worries and irritations. But this sleepiness is finally getting to me—Mrs. J. Comment: I know many insomnia who would want to change places with you. But I'd suggest that they don't. The inability to stay awake can be more distressful than the inability to go to sleep. I don't know what your doctors have tried. Have they considered that you might be suffering from narcolepsy? (We have special medicines which help such patients stay awake). How is your thyroid gland working? How is your blood sugar level? Check on these things if you haven't already. Fighting to stay awake can take the joy out of life.

SKIN TESTS DON'T ALWAYS SHOW BEE STING SENSITIVITY

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: My husband was stung by a bee a few weeks ago. He got a terrible reaction. He became pale, turned blue, had trouble breathing and almost died. Doctors had to give him oxygen, stimulants and cortisone and sent him to the hospital emergency room to save him. We can't understand it. He has never had asthma or been allergic to anything we know of. Our family doctor told some skin tests to see if he is sensitive to wasp venom, and to and behold, there was a reaction. In other words, his skin reacted as if he isn't sensitive to wasp stings. Yet, he almost died from a sting a few weeks earlier.

How do you account for it? Our doctor says he ought to be desensitized to wasp venom anyway. What do you think, Mrs. G.

Comment: It is difficult to figure out, and even more so to explain, but I think your doctor is right in wanting to use hypodermic injections to protect your husband which might be life-endangering from future stinging.

In a recent study of patients stung by bees or wasps, Captain Howard J. Schwartz, M.C., USA, stationed at Brooke Army Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., found that skin test results do not run parallel to clinical findings. In other words, many patients who showed severe reactions to an actual sting like your husband's later had negative skin reactions in testing their sensitivity.

Therefore, he concluded: "skin tests cannot be effectively used in the diagnosis of insect hypersensitivity but these results do not in any way invalidate their usefulness as a general guide in starting doses in hypodermic treatment. The keystone to the diagnosis of insect hypersensitivity remains the clinical history."

COMPASSIONATE

From California I have received from Mrs. F. a poem written by her friend, B.C.W. In her letter Mrs. F. writes in part: "This is a poem a friend wrote. She was 11 many years her father was a physician. He has passed away."

The poem is called "Compassionate." As I read it, I found it to be a tribute to her own father, to her doctor or to her nurse. I put it here today as an example of how the sick and helpless react to the kind care and compassion of those of us well enough to help them.

So tenderly your hands caress me here where I lie broken. Quiet in their touch as you bend low.

With gentle glances such as mine I find the sick of heart. One voice when he heales the sick of fear.

gates near. Of from the halting ones removed the crutch.

You smile and others marked that seeing tears you do not shed a tear.

That is the magic power of you, who go serenely down the years. You could not (if you test your mind) stand steady in the depths of earthly woe. It is above all storm your tenderness descends. With fuller strength to heal and bless.

LOW BLOOD SUGAR

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I have low blood pressure. My own doctor told me to drink orange juice whenever I feel weak or comatose. Also told me to eat down on my coffee when my heart beats too fast. Isn't there a special diet Mrs. M.?

Comment: First it is important to look for the possible cause of hypoglycemia (low blood sugar). In severe cases there may be an overactive tumor growing in the pancreas. Usually, however, the cause is unknown, and it is called idiopathic hypoglycemia.

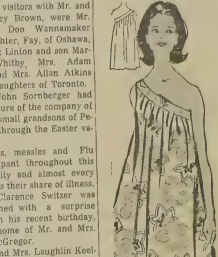

As for a special diet, I believe most doctors prescribe a high protein diet rather than a high carbohydrate intake. Too much coffee isn't good, but I doubt if it has any direct effect on the low blood sugar.

KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter J. Steinhorst, M.D., F.R.C.P.
Author of "The Doctor Looks at Life"

BIRTH RECORDS ARE MADE TO BE BROKEN
For years it was an accepted fact that no human would break the four-minute mile, that running the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds was about as fast as man could pump with his two legs.

But time and perseverance have changed that. Records are made to be broken. It seems that this holds true for record birth-weights, too.

Not long ago a reader asked me what was the record weight for twins. I quoted from a reply in the Journal of the American Medical Association that "reports of combined weights of twins over 15 pounds 6 ounces are usual, and over 17 pounds are rare."

Sure enough, here is a record holder who objects. He sends along a copy of a doctor's affidavit to prove it. The doctor's statement ends: "Mrs. F. was delivered of twins boys weighing nine pounds each, labor being abnormal and delivery operative. Mrs. F. was discharged from the hospital Nov. 5, 1944. Here is Mr. F's letter:

Dear Dr. Steinhorst: My wife and I saw your article re giving the question of the average weight of twins, etc. You will be interested in the attached affidavit from Dr. M. (full name deleted) of New York, when our twin boys were born each weighing nine pounds.

Apparently this is some thing of a record since Dr. M. on the occasion of his death was said to have delivered 10,000 babies. We are sending this to you to keep you abreast of such matters and possibly give my wife a belated pat on the back. The twin are 21 years old now. I feel 4 went 12 and 13 and 35 and weigh 183 pounds. They take after their mother's side of the family.—Mr. F.

Comment: Mrs. F., accept my belated pat on the back, although you probably felt like a champ all these years with a record-breaking pair like that.

NIGHTMARES AND BRANDY
Dear Dr. Steinhorst: I suppose it seems silly to trouble you but I wish you'd please say something about nightmares. I am 70 years old and awaken several times each night after some awful dream. I am always working hard on that project in my dream and when I awaken at two or three a.m. my mind is pounding and I am perspiring and wide awake.

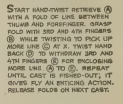

If I go to sleep again, I dream only another hour or so with the same effects. When six a.m. comes I am wide awake and so depressed and worn out. I can hardly get out of bed. I do not eat a heavy evening meal, nor do I drink or smoke. Is there any remedy? Mrs. C.

Comment: I don't know the cause of nightmares, but perhaps a suggestion is in order that may help. It involves a change of habit and perhaps a challenge of your normal belief. The remedy in question is blackberry brandy.

Just this morning (as if by ESP) an editor told me of his aunt, aged 77, who has been taking an ounce of blackberry brandy on the advice of her doctor before bedtime. Her complaint, too, was sleeplessness and bad dreams. That was 10 years ago. Since taking the brandy she has slept

By Peter J. Steinhorn, M.D., M.S.,
Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

GOD WIFE SHOULD NAG HER HUSBAND INTO HEALTH

A doctor has many assistants scattered throughout the community in which he treats the sick.

I suppose you think of trained nurses. It's true that they are an important arm of defense against illness. But I refer to the unsung, helpers, without whom the practice of medicine would indeed be much less efficient than it is the wives.

Read this and be thankful, you husbands who are often the first to tell a well-meaning wife: "Don't be such a nag!"

The truth is that many a wife has nagged her husband into good health. In fact, has often saved his life by nagging him into seeing his doctor. I recall many such experiences here's one:

One of the most common life-saving acts is in the realm of coronary disease. With all the knowledge that has been spread about this coronary disease, wives have often been a pretty good amateur diagnosticians. At least, they once some people lying in the gutter, drunk (they must have called the doctor to verify their fears.

CASE IN POINT

Here is a man who has indigestion like "I've never had indigestion about this few hours, but his wife thinks he doesn't look just right. He is not! I last only a few minutes on his way to the office, but minded. Tell me, please, how did they ever get to live to be the doctor first.

EDITORIAL PAGE

The Norwich Plan

Member of Commerce Secretary-Manager Harry MacDonald expressed his thanks to "The Post" today for the editorial support given to the Chamber of Commerce "Clean-up month" plans for Lindsay.

At the same time Mr. MacDonald said the Chamber had investigated the Norwich Plan on a number of occasions, but said it couldn't be carried out at the present time in Lindsay for a number of reasons. Mr. MacDonald did say arrangements had already been completed to screen the Norwich Union Insurance firm on the Norwich Plan.

Support for the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce "clean-up Lindsay" campaign has been expressed by the Mayor and Council, Fire Department, Board of Health and many leading citizens.

The art of conversation

Somebody once said the art of conversation was dead. At least, if it isn't dead it's pretty sick in this television age. Educational standards have never been higher, and yet we're all conversational idiots.

That the conversation had been lively, interesting, relaxed and informative. The wonder is that any wit and wisdom survives today!

Check for Cables!

Now that spring is here, the gardening and property-improvement plans which many of us have made during the winter will soon be put into effect. There's that new fence to put up, that drain the tile to lay, and a lot of other jobs requiring digging. In any situation where digging is required, it's always a good idea to check with the telephone company to make sure that no telephone cables are in the way of the shovel or posthole digger. One threat of any of this equipment is all it takes to damage a buried cable, which would disrupt regular telephone service, data-transferring facilities, and the flow of other cable-transmitted material.

To avoid this, the telephone company provides free cable-locating service. So, before you dig, call the telephone company and find out if there are any cables in your path.

English is the world's most developed and expressive language. Every shade of meaning, every subtle hint or suggestion can be expressed by the language, and yet except for the old scientist or character that has said something to say, and says it fluently, most people say very little and express themselves poorly.

"How are things," they ask. "What's new?" The bombardment of clichés from radio and television (and the newspapers) seems to have stifled the art of conversation. The average person probably rarely uses more than 250 or 300 different words in a day.

When Samuel Johnson, one of the greatest conversationalists ever, said "Yes, sir, we had good talk," he meant

This Day 25 Years Ago

APRIL 29, 1941
Injured in Fall
Albert Gassman of Lindsay was injured at 8 p.m. Monday evening at Akeley when the CNR freight train en which he was conductor, stopped on its regular run from Stilled to Lindsay.

Mr. Gassman, 45, married, of two children and five, had just completed the four-mile run from Orilla to Akeley and Mr. Gassman was riding on top of one of the cars. When the train stopped at Akeley, they were well over the drawbridge. Getting off the car and climbing down the side holder, Mr. Gassman put one foot over the side of the bridge and fell into the water below.

However he was able to get out himself and Brampton Cent. Devell, also of Lindsay, helped him into the car.

Mr. Moore White met the train as it arrived in Lindsay about midnight and Lindsay was immediately removed to Ross Memorial Hospital where it was discovered he was suffering from bruises and cracked ribs.

Centennial Report

1867-1967

JOHN W. FISHER

Report No. 6

Before the end of this year a full-length Canadian feature film will be released to Great Britain, the United States and other countries. It is certain to encourage people to visit our country during the 1967 Centennial. The film, called Helicopter Canada, an hour-long Panavision production for video screens, will be shown in our own cinema during 1967.

Helicopter Canada is the first full length moving picture feature to be made entirely from a helicopter-1/3 flight anywhere in the world. It is an exciting coast-to-coast color sweep of Canada—its geography, its wildlife, its people and ways of life. It is being produced by the National Film Board of Canada and with the aid of the Centennial Commission. Peter Jones is the producer and George Salverton is the script writer. The director-cameraman is Eugene "Geep" Boyko of the National Film Board staff who had some interesting experiences filming this project across Canada from the open door of a helicopter.

Boyko was born in Saskatoon, has been a dishwasher, shipyard worker, private chauffeur in various parts of the country and he was a country-and-western singer in Saskatoon in 1937 when a broadcaster named Jack Wells tagged him with the nickname, Geep. After a comic-strip creature.

In the 40's Boyko was a taxi driver in Vancouver when a passenger went on vacation leaving her camera in the car. He used it to shoot a traffic accident and sold it to a local paper for $5. This sent him into the film business and he wound up at the National Film Board in 1951. Boyko's home, when he gets there, is in Lorraine, Quebec, he has a wife, one daughter, 10, and one son.

By means of Geep Boyko's camera, background narration, dialogue and sound effects, the viewer in the cinema audience will be making a trip across the country, discovering Canada as though he were in that helicopter. The copier, during shooting, was able to get as close to the face of anything as his blades permitted and hovered from six to 500 feet.

Boyko spent more than a year on this filming—a good deal of the time 500 feet up in the air, crash helmet on head, hanging out the side of a French-built turbine helicopter (the Alouette). In one year he shot 36,000 feet of film.

and travelled from Newfoundland to Victoria. An anti-vibration mount for the camera was a French-made unit, first used in the making of the French film "The Red Balloon" and "Voyage in a Balloon". It permits a picture while hovering vibration is eliminated in this clever device.

The helicopter camera shot the convoluted tunnels and towers of a vast oil refinery complex at Edmonton, patrolled wheeled, riding new buildings in western cities, the lush North Saskatchewan River Valley; in Montreal the helicopter made forays around the new skyscrapers; in Saskatchewan it caught a fast-moving freight train travelling through a Prairie town, a truck parking a rich dust plume behind it, down a road to a lone elevator standing stark against the prairie horizon.

The film's viewers will have the sensation of being virtually on the surface of the force beneath the Honeycombs Bridge at Niagara Falls, and being on a slow trip straight up the face of the bridge wall face almost at arms length. "How will ride the back" of a deer in flight, peek into the windows of Montreal's skyscrapers and experience the sleet and sound of wingbeaters at their work and stockbrokers in action. They will view skiers and mountain climbers, wheat farmers, miners and prospectors, lumbermen, assembly-line production, football clubs, outdoor activities of various ethnic groups and of the first Canafans—the Indians.

Don't miss Helicopter Canada when it comes to your area in 1967.

Mayor urges citizens to support C of C "beautify Lindsay" month

Dear Fellow Citizen,

Your members of Council are pleased to endorse and encourage the beautification and improvement of the Lindsay and Environs in sponsoring a "Beautify Lindsay Month".

We believe Lindsay is "The Town with a Character Look" and a better place to live.

Let 1966 be a year of clean up, paint up, and fix up, to make us proud of our town during Centennial Year.

Yours sincerely,

John F. Ekins, Mayor.

Many repairs can be done without any increase in taxes and a well kept town means higher value. When you improve your property you improve your neighbourhood, and that makes our whole town a better place to live.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF WOMEN

March of Dimes

A letter from campaign chairman, G. M. Henderson, March of Dimes Rehabilitation Foundation to C. C. Manager Harry McDonald, Toronto reads, in part—

You will be interested to know that the figure we have at hand and the receipts we estimate are yet to come. There is every indication that this year we will more than meet campaign objective of $800,000.

It must be a source of gratification that through your work and effort your community has as of the date of writing, contributed $1,347.00 to this most successful campaign.

Johnny Meyers, our Campaign Director, and I would like you to know how much we appreciate the hard work that you and your committee put into this campaign.

Many thanks for a job well done.

The Academy Theatre is a regular venue of industry these nights as Lindsay Little Theatre Group prepare for their play "You Can't Take It With You", which will be presented two nights next week, Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7. From the basement, where Rosemary Dignan and her helpers, were busily painting that, to the stage in the auditorium, where the second act was being run through under the direction of Miss Lynn Gorman, everything seemed to be running fairly smoothly when we dropped in last night.

"You Can't Take It With You," is a very funny play, and with a cast of Lindsay's best actors under professional direction, should prove to be one of the best shows ever put on at the Academy.

Everyone who attended the Regional Drama Festival at the Academy last Saturday night, had nothing but the highest praise for the plays presented by the three competing High School drama clubs, with Midland High School being the winner. Had even half the local High School students attended, the Theatre could have been filled.

Surely, the admission fee of 50c was not excessive. Young groups such as the High School Drama Clubs need and deserve the support of young and old alike.

Happiness is a by-product of effort to make some one else happy.

The Moderate Man

A moderate man is temperate in his thinking... in his actions... in his convictions... he is moderate in all things. He has the respect of his family, his friends and his associates. He is, in short, a contented and happy man.

Handy Hints

After ironing curtains hang them, temporarily, on a skirt rack where they stay neat and wrinkle free until needed.

When you do your washing at a coin laundry, take along a number of plastic bags and put each one's clothes in separate bags. If you do not get your ironing done immediately, you won't have to look through a big clothes basket to find an item someone needs right away.

*****

Girls, have you ever ironed a sandwich? For the best-tasted cheese sandwich, on ironing day put sliced cheese between two slices of bread.

Golden Wedding

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Baskets of beautiful flowers, from Jim and Len Stewart, who have resided at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stewart, Francis St., W. Fenelon Falls on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. Some 250 friends and relatives called to extend congratulations and best wishes to the Stewarts.

On April 21, 1916, John Stewart and Delia Cope were married in Fenelon Falls. A Methodist minister (Rev. D. R. Johnson) they have lived in their married life in Fenelon Falls and have two children, Helen, Mrs. R. H. Spiller of Toronto, and Ross of Fenelon Falls. A daughter, Martha Orlie died at the age of three years. They have five grandchildren. Lightly spread butter or margarine on outside of bread slices. Wrap well in foil, turn over and let rest on other side for 1 minute. Works wonderfully. Try it.

CLEAN UP MONTH

The Lindsay Board of Health Supports

The Chamber of Commerce in their Spring Clean Up Campaign. The Public Health Department will clean up all alleys and refuse be cleared from backyards, lanes, alleys, and wherever accumulated during the winter months. As a health and safety measure, keep garbage in covered containers at all times and put them out for regular garbage collection.

Section 19 of The Public Health Act requires that all decayed animal or vegetable matter shall be removed from all cellars, buildings, out-buildings and yards by May 1st.

Don't let uncleaned garbage or refuse attract disease carrying vermin or flies. Do your part to keep Lindsay clean and healthy.

LINDSAY BOARD OF HEALTH

I heartily endorse the clean-up campaign of the Chamber of Commerce and offer the following suggestions for fire safety.

In our fire-prevention program we continually stress the importance of keeping matches away from children. At times we are glad that this is a good rule. For days, before and after Victoria Day, children are carrying matches and lighting fireworks without adult supervision; endangering their own lives and the property of others.

As the first week of the summer season approaches, and reports and newspapers from numerous towns and villages are full of reports of buildings whose grass fires spread beyond control. Such operations should be undertaken only under favorable weather conditions and with ample personnel and extinguishing equipment available to keep burning under control. Only when approved by the Fire Department, two most common causes of fires from incinerators are the weeds around them should be removed to ensure a twenty-foot break between an incinerating grass fire and your building.

REMEMBER:

- 1. Never leave a bonfire unattended.
- 2. Use a screen on your incinerator with half-inch openings to prevent sparks and flying waste from spreading.
- 3. Keep grass and weeds cut.
- 4. Remember "Fire Safety is Your Problem."

No. 26 Developer Formula

BETTER PHOTOGRAPHY

A weekly column
Photography
especially written for
"The Post"

by
CLAUDE BELLWOOD

Over a couple of months, several requests have been made for information on developers, such as what is a developer made of, is there more than one chemical in it, what the different chemicals do, and could I give a formula and explain its use.

Well, we will start off with a formula that is referred to as a "Universal" developer. This means that the developer is suitable for most films, and also for developing prints. Some developers, such as the Pyro-soda, the Metol-hydroquinone-borax, and those containing Paraphenylenediamine for fine grain use, are suitable for negative material only.

Take water, about 50 cc. Metol 45 grains; Sodium Sulphite 1 oz. 300 grs; Hydroquinone 185 grs; Sodium Carbonate 2 ozs. 185 grs; Potassium Bromide 30 grs. Dissolve these in the order given and add water to make 22 oz.

For contact prints, dilute 1 part stock solution with 1 part water, and develop for 45 to 60 seconds. For Bromide enlargements, dilute 1 part of the stock solution with 4 parts of water, and develop for 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 minutes. When using for films, dilute 1 part stock solution with 5 parts of water, and develop as a test for your film for 3 minutes. All these times are for a temperature of 68 deg. F.

This suggested development may very well be right for your film and method, and then again, it may NOT be, as several factors have a bearing on the correct time. When the film is dry, examine it carefully. If it is of medium density, shadows full of detail, the cause you can never duplicate highlights (the blackest parts of the picture on the negative film) showing printable detail and modelling, then you can say it is correctly developed.

On the other hand, if it is thin, lacking in contrast, detail good in the shadows, with the highlights thin, you more than likely have an underdeveloped film, and the time should be increased provided the temperature of the developer was maintained at 68 deg. during the entire developing time.

If you have very dense negatives, extremely contrasty, black parts very dense and hard, you have overdeveloped. Be careful, though, to make sure the dense negatives are not only not just dense. Your dense film could be very dark and be "flat" or lacking in contrast, or "gray", which would be due to over exposure, and not to over development. In the case of the thin film, it could be due to under exposure rather than under development, in which case there would be lots of contrast, and no detail in the shadow chemical reactions, they are slowed down by the cold, and what is worse, the cold can change the speed of the reducing agents separately, thus giving the effect of a different formula.

This will be taken up more fully in a later issue, at which time the use of such chemical, and its behaviour under varying temperatures will be discussed.

The formula given at the beginning of this article is, as stated, universal. It will be given, and their characteristics described. The thing to remember in this article is that in developing films, a precise system must be devised to control the amount of agitation so that it may be the same on all your films. A fair guide is to agitate for ten seconds immediately on filling the tank, and then for 5 seconds every minute after that. As said before, the temperature should be kept as near to 68 deg. as possible, and be sure to make the timing accurate. Don't give 5 minutes one time, then next time give a bit extra "for luck". Oh, yes! I've known that to be done!

Set your timer for the exact time you have found best for you, and when the bell rings pour off the developer. Some workers start timing the moment they start pouring the developer into the tank, while others wait until they have filled the tank.

Which ever way you do your timing, be constant; don't use one method one time, and another method next time. Remember that after the developer is poured off the film, the developing action will continue until the film is rinsed off and the fixer poured in, so don't vary your times between pouring off the developer and putting in the fixing solution.

In short, develop a system and stick to it. Do everything of the Township of Ops.

I have examined the books and records of the Township of Ops and of its boards for the year ended December 31, 1965. All required information and explanations were obtained. My receipt includes a general examination of the accounts and a detailed examination of the accounts and records of the Township of Ops as considered necessary in the circumstances.

After providing for a Reserve for Working Funds amounting to $19,936, operations for the year resulted in a surplus of $2,308.87.

Schedule No. 4 sets forth the total taxes receivable as at 31st December 1965, according to years. Total unpaid taxes amounted to $28,804.15. The total 1965 tax roll was approximately 102,800.00 higher than in 1964.

All records were found to be maintained in a most satisfactory manner.

I hereby report that in my opinion:

- (1) The financial transactions which have come under my notice have been within the powers of the municipality.
- (2) The audit has been conducted in accordance with the instructions of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

IMPROPER TURN MAN FINED $10

An Orillia man, Robert Alford Nugent of 52 Rosamary Road was fined $10 and costs in Lindsay police court Thursday morning for making an improper left turn.

Lindsay OPP Constable Donald McNeil told the court Nugent was charged after an accident at the junction of Highway 7 and 7B on April 7. The constable said the accident occurred on the morning about 8:25. He said the road was wet and it was snowing at the time.

The court was told the accused had been proceeding east about 20 miles per hour and he made a left turn into the path of a westbound pickup truck driven by William Sunderken of Peterborough. The two vehicles collided and the truck crashed into a light standard. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $1,600 and $200 to the light standard.

frank about sports

Montreal Canadians made a new series of the Stanley Cup final last night with a much improved showing at Detroit when they skated to a 4-2 win. The Redwings will need a win Sunday afternoon to preserve their advantage in the series.

A five team junior-hockey league was drawn up at Newcastle last night, no intermediate teams appeared at the meeting. In the Ontario, Peterborough and was accepted. Another meeting at Newcastle next Friday night will draw up a schedule for Kitchener, Oshawa, Orono, Port Hope and Little Britain. Little Britain won the O.J.A. Junior championship last year.

Daylight saving is here and the sleep and fog is gone which adds considerably to the hopes of spring and softball season. Larry Johnson will be looking for a good turnout at the International League softball meeting at the Recreation Centre Tuesday evening at seven.

Oshawa and Shawinigan Falls meet in the fourth game of the Eastern Canada finals tonight at Shawinigan. Oshawa leads the best of the series two games to one and a win tonight will put the Generals in the Memorial Cup series.

Cleveland Browns and Bill Speers will be visible on the number line on the watching machine Saturday night when they meet Rochester in the Calder Cup American League final at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Cleveland Indians set a new American Baseball league record with ten consecutive wins to start their season. A 2-1 win over the Angels gave the Indians the new honour, but they still are only one game ahead of Baltimore.
